NINE KNOWN DEAD IN TERRIFIC STORM OVER NEW ENGLAND

Three Students Killed When Wind Prevented Working of Warning Gates—Six Drowned Along Coasts—Five Inches of Rain in Forty-Eight Hours—Damage Estimate Heavy

BOSTON, Oct. 19 (AP).—The number of deaths incidental to the northeast gale which for two days has raged over New England mounted to nine tonight as the storm continued.

Three high school students were killed at Sharon, a collision of their automobile and a train. A crossing tender told police he was unable to lower the gates because of the pressure of the wind. The victims were: Burton Peck, seventeen; Henry Otne, sixteen, and Martha Burlingame, fourteen, all of Sharon.

The other lives were taken by the angry sea. Stanley E. Bassett, twenty-four, of Harwich, drowned in a vain attempt to swim ashore from a small boat off Orleans; two duck hunters drowned off Anisquam Light, Gloucester, and yesterday three fishermen were swept to their deaths from a rock at Jamestown, R.I., by a huge wave.

The Gloucester men, Robert Monson and Clyde Robishaw, drowned when their skiff overturned in heavy seas.

The United States Weather Bureau reported tonight that the rainfall since the storm broke Monday night was five inches. At Pritchburg, 5.3 inches fell in forty-eight hours.

The storm caused thousands of dollars damage by water and wind, disrupted water and air transportation schedules, and caused frequent delays in motor and rail movements.

SAY MURDER WAS PLANNED

Man With Dagger Arrested Near Former Hungarian Premier

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Oct. 19 (AP).—Former Premier Count Stephen Bethlen escaped today from what the police declared was an attempt to assassinate him.

The incident took place in a crowded courtroom. A policeman said he saw Louis Ekduti, private secretary to the former minister of Agriculture, approach the Count with a dagger in his hand. The policeman seized Ekduti, who denied drawing the knife and said he always carried it for his own protection.

Count Bethlen resigned as head of the Government last August after ten years' service and was succeeded by Count Jullus Karolyi.

Ekduti once served a prison term for bribery. He frequently had described himself to friends, the police said, as a victim of the Bethlen regime.

SEES SIGNS OF GREAT ACTIVITY

Transportation Man Reports Winter Supplies Moving Into Bridge River in Large Quantity

VANCOUVER, Oct. 19.—Winter supplies are moving steadily into Bridge River mining district, according to Neal Evans, whose trucks and motor stages are the main transportation facilities of the camp. Mr. Evans is in Vancouver in connection with plans for handling a much greater tonnage and number of passengers next season. Pioneer, Bralorne, Bridge River Exploration, Pioneer Extension, Caldwell and several other properties will operate all winter, Mr. Evans says.

The Bridge River transportation man, who moved into the district all the heavy machinery of Pioneer and Lorne mines, adds that, while he does not pretend to know much about the mining business, the way supplies have moved to the area during the season would indicate to him that huge development is intended this winter.

RUSSIAN IMPORTS OF WHEAT FROM CANADA

MOSCOW, Oct. 19 (AP).—For the first time in a number of years, Soviet Russia has become an importer as well as an exporter of wheat. Greater part of her imports were from Canada.

Official figures revealed today that during the first eight months of 1932 the nation known as the granary of Europe imported more wheat than it sold abroad. This is not, however, the case with other grains and cereals.

Approximately two-thirds of this year's grain imports came from Canada, which supplied 44,368 tons and Australia, with 42,868 tons; the rest came from Persia, China and Turkey.

FIRST VOTE CLEAR SIGN

Majority of 222 Indicates Standing of Commons on Ottawa Agreements

LONDON, Oct. 19 (CP).—A majority of 222 was secured by the Government this afternoon in the House of Commons on the first vote relative to the Ottawa agreements. The vote was not on the agreements themselves, but on a resolution of procedure in connection with legislation implementing the agreements.

It was taken nevertheless as a good indication of how the House is divided on the trade agreements and the tariffs necessary to carry them out.

TO HASTEN PROCEDURE
To implement the agreements it will be necessary to impose twenty-two United Kingdom duties on foreign goods. The normal procedure would be to pass a separate resolution for each duty. Today's Government motion before the House was to authorize the incorporation of the whole twenty-two duties into one resolution.

The Government motion was carried 201 and 69 and the House resumed general debate on the main resolutions.

Major C. R. Atlee, former Labor minister, announced the "Labor party did not intend to be bound by the Ottawa agreement."
"We, of the Labor party, will not be bound by these agreements and intend whenever we are returned to power to take our own line in regard to these arrangements," he declared. He added that he understood his party's views were shared by Sir Herbert Samuel, Mackenzie King, Liberal leader of the Canadian House of Commons, and J. H. Scullin, leader of the Opposition in the Australian Government.

POLICE CHIEF KILLED IN COLLISION OF CARS

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Oct. 19 (AP).—Chief of Police E. B. Vogel, forty-eight, was instantly killed late this afternoon, and several firemen were seriously injured, when the big police patrol car collided with a fire truck. Both cars were traveling at a high speed and were demolished.

Government Makes Irrigation Ruling For Interior Areas

Interest and Sinking Fund Charges on New Loans Must Be Added to Existing Payments Under Sanford Evans Plan

AFFECTING directly twenty-one irrigation and development districts of the province, the Provincial Government yesterday promulgated new regulations covering repayment of sums owing to the conservation fund, adding interest and sinking fund charges in respect to loans advanced during the last three years. An order-in-council was passed setting out the express liability, on twenty-one named loans, payable on March 15, 1933, as follows:

Black Mountain, $28,000; Cawston, $475; East Creston, $13,650; Glen Heffley, $2,000; Grand Forks, $4,000; Keremeos, $4,200; Kaleden, $2,600; Marble Canyon, $854; Narman, $7,770; Oyanas, $1,175; Peachland, $2,450; Penticton, $4,130; Robson, $981; South Creek, $2,700; Southeast Kelowna, $21,250; Vernon, $39,910; Vinellia, $720; Westbank, $3,000; Winfield and Okanagan Centre, $1,000.

THINKS SKELETON THAT OF FRIEND

Remains Found in Coal Mine Probably Those of Missing Run Runner

PORT ANGELES, Oct. 19 (AP).—Frank Miller expressed the opinion here today the skeleton found in the Clallam Bay coal mine ten days ago probably was that of his friend, Mike Witham, a run-runner.

Miller said Witham disappeared while on a trip in a rowboat to Sooke Harbor, Vancouver Island, where he was en route to get a supply of liquor for longer friends at Pysht. He had been missing since 1920.

Miller identified a purse found on the skeletonized remains as belonging to Witham and said the shoes were similar to those worn by his friend.

Investigation of "Faked" Seals by Police Hits Snag

Liquor Control Board Believed to Be Using Improper Stamp on Bottles—Prosecution May Drop Case Against Man Charged With Having Unsealed Liquor in His Possession

EFFORTS of police here to check up on reports that fake liquor seals were in circulation received a setback yesterday when it was reported that officials had discovered that the seals at present in use by the Liquor Control Board do not conform, in detail, with the official seal approved for use and gazetted when the system of liquor control was introduced in this province.

The discovery was made, it was reported yesterday, when a charge was laid against an individual for having unsealed liquor in his possession. The bottle had a portion of the label adhering to it, and a close comparison with the specimen of seal contained in The British Columbia Gazette revealed that it was not exact in detail.

MAY DROP CASE
Police officials naturally thought the seal was a fake until they learned that the seal was exactly the same as that being used by the Liquor Control Board. The case against the individual may be dropped.

The seal now used by the Liquor Control Board is as follows:

While scores of persons looked helplessly on, one of the bandits tripped the postman by throwing a suitcase in front of him. Another threw a cloth over the man's head, and a third knocked him senseless with a club.

All three then leaped into an automobile which was waiting alongside the curb and sped away. A flying squad of police cars dashed through the area surrounding the station within a few minutes, while a description of the bandits' vehicle was flashed over the police wireless system.

The robbery was described as one of the most daring mail bag thefts in recent years.

Tariff Bill Lost Millions in Trade

SAN FERNANDO, Cal., Oct. 19 (AP).—The charge that the California market for $10,000,000 worth of California oranges yearly was destroyed by the Republican Smoot-Hawley Tariff Bill was made in a speech here today by William Gibbs McAdoo, Democratic nominee for United States Senator from California.

Upwards of 360,000 board feet of heavy timbers went into the construction of the building, including construction timbers between thirty and thirty-five feet in length and from ten to twelve inches, squared.

"The timber was used with very satisfactory results, having stood severe tests fully as well as pitch-pine, besides costing considerably less," is the comment made in the official bulletin of the leading civil engineering institute in London.

Vaseline Bottle Barrage Lays Waste Meat Market

VANCOUVER, Oct. 19 (CP).—John McGregor laid down a barrage of vaseline bottles on Ray's Meat Market, West Hastings Street, and when the "cease fire" sounded the showcase and the market windows were demolished and a stock of eggs ruined.

Today McGregor faced a repatriation commission over which Police Magistrate J. A. Findlay presided. The charge was malicious damage to property, and the decision of the court, after McGregor admitted his

FEAR KILLS INDIAN BAND

Twenty-Eight Natives Fled to Barren Lands Through Superstition

MOSSONKE, Ont., Oct. 19 (CP).—Authorities here are checking up on reports of the death of twenty-eight Cree Indians driven from their trapping grounds by superstitious fear of their God Wendigo.

According to the story told by white trappers, who only received the information from a ship that picked up the sole survivor, the Indians perished in the icebound fastnesses of the Big River country, 500 miles north of Mossone.

The survivor is reported to have been picked up last May.

As related by the trappers here, the Indians invaded the Eastman River country to establish trap lines for the winter. Then it was related that they incurred the animosity of Wendigo. Forced slowly northward by barren traps, lack of meat and about "persecution" of a spirit nature, they finally perished one by one in the Big River country, with the exception of the survivor.

MA PROMOTE NEW INDUSTRY

British Capitalists Seeking Acreage and Labor for Sugar Manufacture

NEW WESTMINSTER, Oct. 19.—The proposed establishment of a beet sugar industry in the Fraser Valley, costing $750,000, by British capitalists, will be laid before a meeting of presidents and secretaries of boards of trade of the Fraser Valley in Abbotsford Saturday.

The meeting has been called by the Associated Boards of Trade, and, according to W. H. Keary, secretary, about thirty representatives will attend.

According to proposals of the British promoters, approximately 5,000 acres in beets would be needed. It is estimated that $10,000 of the required for the site, $200,000 for the factory and $530,000 for equipment.

Those behind the scheme seek guaranteed acreage of beets and guarantee of sufficient labor to cultivate and harvest the crop.

At present sugar beets are grown in Delta, Richmond and Sumas on a small scale, the product being shipped across the line for refining at Bellingham.

The proposed plant for the Fraser Valley would produce 12,000 tons of sugar annually.

B.C. Douglas Fir Used in London Hotel

British Columbia Douglas fir, still called "pine" by the trade in Britain, is winning fresh encomiums from British architects and engineers, as a result of its use in the construction of the new Cumberland Hotel, at Marble Arch, London.

Forestry officials of the Government were advised yesterday.

Upwards of 360,000 board feet of heavy timbers went into the construction of the building, including construction timbers between thirty and thirty-five feet in length and from ten to twelve inches, squared.

"The timber was used with very satisfactory results, having stood severe tests fully as well as pitch-pine, besides costing considerably less," is the comment made in the official bulletin of the leading civil engineering institute in London.

House Is Electrified When Remark Hints At General Election

No Appeal Likely on Trade Agreements for Year or Two, It Is Later Explained—French Canadian Members Engage in Debate

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—A hint at a general election snapped the House of Commons out of the doldrums today.

"We may be wrong or we may be right," exclaimed Hon. Maurice Dupre, referring to the Government's fiscal policy. "The country will decide and we are ready to go before the country and find out."

Lounging members sat bolt upright. Newspapers fluttered to the floor. "Bring on your election now!" and "We're ready," shouted Liberals. And without another word, the Speaker-General adjourned debate on the Imperial Conference treaties, it being nearly 6 o'clock. "Is this proposition?" members shouted to one another as they thought of an election and the folks back home.

Excitement brief. But the excitement soon blew over. Asked to amplify his statement, Mr. Dupre said the election would be held in the usual course of time—possibly a year or two—but not until after the treaties have had fair trial.

Hon. Arthur Sauve, Postmaster-General, also referred to an election as French-Canadians stole the Parliamentary show.

"The Liberals prefer to have an election immediately," he said. "Because they know that within two years the people will have profited by the good effects of these agreements and their campaign of prejudice will no longer prevail."

SWEEPING REORGANIZATION OF CITY ENGINEER'S OFFICE

"Loggers' Gathering" of City Council in Camera Recommends Sweeping Changes in Engineer's Staff—Five Departments, Three Superintendents Eliminated—New Powers Interpreted

Alex. B. McDonald Named Public Works Supervisor

LITTLE of the old system of administration in the city engineer's office will remain when the recommendations of the City Council, which met in camera yesterday afternoon, are finally ratified at the regular Monday meeting, it was learned yesterday. Sponsored by Alderman T. W. Hawkins, a sweeping reorganization was decided upon in which the recommendations of F. M. Preston, engineer and water commissioner, were thrown into the discard, it was learned.

Following is an itemized list of changes recommended at the close of a meeting described as "a loggers' gathering" by virtue of the frankness of the discussion:

Elimination of five departments.
Elimination of three superintendents.
Establishment of one department to cover all engineering works other than waterworks.

Appointment of a general superintendent of public works, who would have two assistants.
Complete supervision of the engineer's department and all other departments by the city controller, D. A. Macdonald.

DUAL POST DEFEATED
Ratification of this programme of reorganization, which carries with it reconstruction of the outside staff, details of which were not revealed, means that Alderman T. W. Hawkins achieved three of his five projects. The alderman attempted to place the controller in the dual position of controller and water commissioner, a position that was formerly held by an earlier controller. His attempt was defeated, however.

Under the programme of recommendations, the paving plant, maintenance department, the newly-created construction department, the city yards, sewers and the blacksmith's and machinist's shops would be merged into one large department to be known as public works department. At the head of this department, and under the supervision of Engineer Preston, would be a general superintendent of public works. Alex. B. McDonald has been recommended for this post.

INTERPRET POWERS
It is understood that the question of the engineer's powers was threshed out at the meeting, and that it was finally decided the controller's by-law should be interpreted to mean that Mr. McDonald has complete supervision over all departments with power to stop or start various undertakings. Notification would have to be given to the controller before some major project was undertaken under this new interpretation, it was explained. The powers would extend also to work of minor importance although the interference in minor matters might not be so frequent as in the major ones, it was stated.

It was further revealed that no part of the engineer's recommendations on reorganization had been carried out, and that the debate on the various questions had been one of the most outspoken character.

TRUE BILLS FOUND AGAINST BANDITS ACCUSED OF MURDER

TORONTO, Oct. 19.—The grand jury today returned a true bill in the cases of Ewart Warren and Harold Hicks, charged with the murder of Mr. W. G. More, Toronto dentist, who was shot during an attempted hold-up.

The shootings occurred on October 14, when Warren and Hicks were captured after an extensive man hunt on October 14, just two hours before Dr. More died from a gunshot wound.

BATTLE IN PROGRESS
LA PAZ, Bolivia, Oct. 19 (AP).—A battle in which Paraguayan troops, estimated to number 14,000, were participating, was in progress today in the Arce sector in the Chaco, unofficial sources here said; but the Bolivians were repulsing the Paraguayan attack.

De Valera Makes Statement on Dispute Over Land Payments

SAYS BRITAIN PLAYS SHYLOCK

DUBLIN, Oct. 19 (AP).—Great Britain is "playing the part of Shylock" toward the Free State, and at the same time petitioning the United States for relief from war debts, "which no one denies are morally and legally due," President Eamon de Valera declared before the Dail Eireann today.

The President was making his report to the Legislature on the failure of last week's negotiations in London, which had been aimed at terminating the Anglo-Irish tariff war. He said those negotiations failed because Britain insisted membership of a suggested arbitration committee be limited to representatives of Empire nations. This insistence, he added, ruled out any possibility of arbitration.

Mr. de Valera declared the Free State was neither legally nor morally obligated to pay land annuities to Britain. These annuities were provided to cover transfer of land to Irish tenants. Dublin's refusal to remit them precipitated the economic warfare.

CLAIMS BRIGHT FAN OFF MARKED COURSE

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—The British freighter, Bright Fan, was eighteen miles south of the course laid down for her by the Government patrol boat, when she was wrecked on an iceberg in Hudson Strait, October 1, counsel for the Crown stated when the inquiry into the mishap opened here today.

PARIS, Oct. 19 (AP).—Asked before the Chamber of Deputies committee today whether France expected to pay her war debts to the United States, Premier Edouard Herriot was reported to have replied that the debt was a matter for negotiation.

The question was raised, it was said, by Deputy Henry Haye at a session of the chamber's committee on foreign affairs.

At the same meeting M. Herriot announced he would prepare disarmament proposals under which France would indicate her willingness "to go as far along the road" to disarmament as was permitted by the necessities of national security.

The bottom has dropped out of the grain freight market, and rates have been subjected to bearish influences, reflected in a decline to 10-12 per cent per quarter to the United Kingdom and 6 cents a 100 pounds to Antwerp or Rotterdam.

The most recent rate quoted for the carriage of grain from Vancouver to the United Kingdom is 23 shillings a ton. Although this is considered a very fair rate, it seems hardly enough to justify sending a steamer all the way from Montreal to the British Columbia port for a cargo, when the elevators here contain upwards of 12,000,000 bushels and many millions more are in store at lakeport elevators.

The explanation is hard to discover, and is entirely dependent on the peculiar reasonings of the grain trade.

EXPENSE JUSTIFIED

In any event, it did not appear that prospects of obtaining a remunerative cargo in Montreal were particularly bright at the present time, and the owners decided that the possibility of obtaining shipments across the Pacific or to the United Kingdom for next month were sufficiently favorable to justify the expense involved of sending their ships such a long way in ballast, in addition to defraying the high Panama Canal tolls.

GAME WARDEN SHOT INSPECTING LICENCE

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 19 (AP).—W. H. Minnick, deputy game warden for Spokane County, was fatally injured near here today as he approached a group of hunters to inspect their licences.

W. R. Austin, manager of a flour mill here, said he started to comply with the warden's request to see his licence. His gun was accidentally discharged and Minnick was shot below the heart. The warden died an hour later. Austin was not held.

Ships Give Eastern Ports the Go-By to Load in Vancouver

Bottom Drops Out of Grain Freight Market on Atlantic Coast—Trade Reasonings Make Explanation Hard to Discover

MONTREAL, Oct. 20 (CP).—The Gazette today published the following: Some surprise is indicated in local shipping circles in the fact that two and possibly three tramp steamers have left Montreal and Quebec for Vancouver to load grain. One of these, the Rajahstan, is sailing this morning and is said to be "fixed" out of the British Columbia port. Her destination, however, is not yet known here. This steamer arrived on Tuesday with coal from Nova Scotia, and discharged rapidly in preparation for her voyage of 7,500 miles through the Panama Canal.

TWO SHIPS LEAVE

The Waziristan, which arrived here on October 6 with Welsh anthracite coal, sailed last Saturday for Hampton Roads, where it is expected she will bunker before continuing her voyage to Vancouver for grain.

The Stonepool left Quebec several days ago, and may also proceed to the Pacific Coast.

British Army Brigade Manoeuvres

THESE pictures were taken during brigade training in Sussex, England, when brigades of the British army went through manoeuvres under the direction of General Harrington. Inset shows Tommies receiving hot food from the latest mobile field kitchen.

built far in excess of the requirements. "Are they in any position to criticize the Government?" he asked.

POLICING PROVINCE

The Kidd Commission, he stated, had recommended economies totaling $6,000,000, but did not say where those economies were to be effected. He mentioned the policing of British Columbia by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Of this recommendation he said that the members of the Commission had not gone far enough into the matter or they would have discovered that, under the Mounted Police Act, the officers of that corps are forbidden to police in municipal areas. He mentioned the work being done by the Provincial Police here. That force is at present policing twenty-five municipalities besides taking care of work of many other departments of the Government. This force collects more than $2,500,000 annually in revenues. This, the Attorney-General declared, would not be done by the Mounted without payment.

Mr. Pooley mentioned the policing of Alberta and stated that that province in the month of April received a bill from the Mounted Police for $8,000 charged as extras. He also reminded the members of the committee that the Mounted Police force was under the direct supervision of a minister at Ottawa, and asked his audience to visualize the system of law enforcement in British Columbia under directions from Ottawa.

RE-ESTABLISH TRADE

The Attorney-General said he did not believe that wholesale economies, especially those affecting the social obligations of the province and hospitalization, would solve the situation in British Columbia so much as the re-establishment of trade. The first step in that direction was to take the agreements were reached at the Imperial Conference at Ottawa. He took occasion at this juncture to refer to the critics of Premier Tominie for his long absence in the Dominion capital. He declared the Premier was carrying out his duties to the people of the province in assisting to prepare the brief for presentation to the Conference.

"British Columbia's brief was one of the best submitted to the Conference, and I venture to say that if there is any one spot that will benefit from those agreements, it will be the Province of British Columbia," Mr. Pooley stated.

Following this address, the Conservative Association passed a vote of confidence in Mr. Pooley, as Attorney-General and as member for the Esquimalt riding.

CRITICISM OF GREAT BRITAIN

"dictation" of Canada was expressed by Hon. Bernard Rinfret, Mayor of Montreal, in the chief effort from the Opposition benches. He saw in the agreements a plan to submerge Canada's hard-won autonomy.

The United Kingdom, said Mr. Rinfret, had dictated to Canada that a tariff board must be appointed and what its duties were to be.

"But this is the limit," exclaimed the Montreal Mayor, referring to Great Britain's "dictation" that Canada must remodel its customs regulations.

Canada needed to secure export markets "to avoid in future the disaster which follows overproduction," Mr. Sauve asserted. "Our need of expansion is not territorial, but commercial."

EMPIRE POLICY

"Our policy aims at serving the general interests of the Empire while strongly safeguarding those of our own country," continued Mr. Sauve. "Protection was used as a weapon of defence against ruinous foreign invasion of Canada's markets by nations which closed their own doors to Canada."

Pride in the Government for having fought and having succeeded was expressed by Mr. Dupre.

The attitude of the Opposition, he said, was due to its disappointment that the present Administration had succeeded where the Opposition had failed.

Mr. Dupre adjourned the debate, and the House rose to meet again tomorrow afternoon.

Uncle Hiram listened for a number of nights to the singing of a crooner on the radio, until some bit of curiosity led him to the dictionary. The first definition of "croon" that struck his eye was: "To make a continuous hollow sound, as cattle in pain: to bellow."

"Last Saturday night," he observed, "of the two, our sick calf served, 'of the better performance.'"

Century Old Wine Seized By Customs

TIJUANA, Mexico, Oct. 19 (AP).—Mexican customs officials announced here today they would sell at public auction at Ensenada on Saturday a shipment of French and Belgian wines and liquors a century old, which had been seized in that port. The cargo, they estimated, was worth $251,891.36.

The cargo was brought to Rum Row of the Lower California coast aboard the Quand Me around the Horn by Felix Leguier, official said.

The most valuable part of the cargo is 2,641 cases of champagne, made during the time of Napoleon, according to apparently authentic labels. The cargo was destined, officials said, for Hollywood, but both ship and cargo had been abandoned.

"I don't see why you haggle so with the tailor about the price—you'll never pay," said Leguier.

"But, you see, I am conscientious. I don't want the poor fellow to lose more than is necessary."

CHICAGO GANGSTERS AT WORK AS USUAL

CHICAGO, Oct. 19 (AP).—The bodies of two men, executed in gang fashion, were found today.

Thomas Kane, thirty-four, had been shot through the back of the head and his body left in an abandoned automobile in the West Side, where it was discovered by a passer-by. Earlier the body of San Dallay, nineteen, punctured by a half dozen bullets was found on a South Side street.

Both men, police said, had records as automobile thieves.

SIX HOMES ARE BOUGHT

Real Estate Transactions
Included Three Duplex
Dwellings

Six homes, including three modern duplex dwellings, have been sold within the past few days through the firm of A. A. McHenry & Co., it was learned yesterday.

Two new duplex houses, situated at the corner of Cook Street and Fairfield Road, and constructed by the Cross Construction Company, were bought by J. W. Bell. Another duplex on Fairfield Road was sold to an English investor.

Each suite in these duplex dwellings is a unit of four rooms, finished in the most modern style.

Further recent sales by this firm include a six-room bungalow on Margate Avenue; the fine seven-room bungalow known as "Sea view" on Hollywood Crescent; to a local buyer; a bungalow of five rooms on King George Terrace to a resident; and a bungalow of five rooms on Grafton Street to a new-comer from the United States.

STORM PASSING NORTH OF HERE

Napier Denison, Dominion meteorologist for this province, announced yesterday that rain would be general over the southern end of Vancouver Island and the Mainland. The storm that has been experienced at Prince Rupert, however, is passing toward the north, and probably will not touch this part of the coast.

SOOKE MAN CHARGED

Anthony Kohout, of Sooke Harbor, appeared before Acting Magistrate G. J. Prior in the provincial police court yesterday, on two charges of alleged infraction of the game laws. He is charged with taking deer without a licence, and with refusing to permit a search of his premises when requested to do so by a game warden. The accused was remanded until Wednesday next for a hearing.

CHINESE SENT UP FOR TRIAL

Court Hears How 'Forty-Eight Tins of Opium Were Secreted in Fake Trunk

How an attempt to smuggle forty-eight tins of raw opium into Canada was frustrated by the vigilance of Canadian customs officials was revealed at the preliminary hearing of Pung Tin Sui, Chinese, at the city police court yesterday, which resulted in the accused being sent to a higher court for trial on a charge of unlawfully importing. He chose trial by jury.

Pung Tin Sui was arrested by an officer of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police after customs officers, examining baggage from the Ms. Tantalus, which docked at Victoria on October 12, from China and Japan ports, had discovered a false bottom in a black lacquered trunk which contained the forty-eight tins of drug packed in long white cotton stockings.

AN OLD METHOD

"It is a very old and a very crude method of attempting to smuggle goods into Canada, but it is one that the Chinese try every now and then," Joseph Dakers, senior customs examiner, told the court.

Mr. Dakers said that Pung Tin Sui, who was one of a party of eighty Chinese aboard the ship, brought the trunk to the examining officer, unlocked it and waited for the officer to make his examination. Reaching down in the trunk, the officer found his hand would not go as deeply down as he expected. Close examination showed that the trunk was fitted with an interior receptacle that did not show the same depth of measurement as the outside of the trunk. When the receptacle was removed, there was a false bottom, in which forty-eight tins were secreted.

TRUNK IN COURT

The faked trunk was exhibited in the courtroom. It was made of soft wood covered with black lacquer, with brass fittings. The trunk was completely covered in heavy canvas and roped.

Following the submission of evidence by the Crown, represented by R. A. Wootton, the accused was committed for trial. C. H. O'Halloran appeared for Pung Tin Sui.

The charges against the Chinese are importing drugs and having in his possession a quantity of drugs.

FRED MORRISSEY ADMITS FORGERY

Frederick Morrissey, a former member of the permanent militia forces here, stood in the dock at city police court yesterday morning, and calmly pleaded guilty to charges of false pretences and forgery. He was remanded until this morning for sentence.

Morrissey was taken in charge by city police officers in the vicinity of Elk Lake after they had traced worthless cheques and forged cheques to him. The offences to which he pleaded guilty occurred in July, two were of forgery and one of passing worthless cheques with intent to defraud.

Morrissey was not represented by counsel, and C. L. Harrison appeared for the prosecution.

WAS BURIED YESTERDAY

Mass was celebrated at St. Andrew's Cathedral on Wednesday morning for Mrs. Mary Bell McDonald, who passed away in St. Joseph's Hospital on Sunday. Rev. Father J. A. LABOR PREPARES FOR ELECTIONS

Trades Council Names Its Delegates for Nominating Convention on Friday, Oct. 28

At the meeting of the Trades and Labor Council last evening, discussion took place regarding the character of the nominating convention to be held in the interests of labor on Friday, October 28. Some questions were asked as to the platform that would be presented. This was met with the information that the drawing up of a platform and other lines of action would be something for the delegates to consider when they meet.

Three delegates were named to represent the council, namely: Victor Middley, president; J. Wilson, secretary, and J. J. Beckett. J. Matkinson was elected as the alternate delegate for the council.

A committee was named to carry out the arrangements for the house warming in connection with the opening of the new hall at the corner of Government and Broughton Streets, in the Hambley Block. This committee consists of J. H. Owen, P. Curtis, J. H. Holland and T. W. Nute.

MAY BUY PIANO

The committee was authorized to purchase a piano if it thought advisable. For the opening, a programme will be arranged, with refreshments and a dance.

A letter was read from Ira Dilworth, referring to publicity given an incident at the high school, explaining the whole matter. A motion was passed that the principal of the high school be communicated with and be informed that the council regretted that there had been any misunderstanding. Confidence was expressed by a number of the members in the good judgment of Mr. Dilworth.

A general discussion of relief plans for the future and the administration of this work took place, in which complaints were made by some of the delegates with regard to discrimination in the granting of relief. No action was taken by the council.

ANNUAL MEETING FRIDAY EVENING

McBride Conservative Club to Hear Reports and Elect Officers for Coming Year

The annual meeting of the McBride Conservative Club will be held tomorrow night, at 8 o'clock, in the Sons of England Hall, 1216 Broad Street. President H. W. R. Moore, Secretary C. H. McMillan and Treasurer H. L. Fensham will present reports covering the activities of the organization during the past twelve months.

Following the consideration of reports, the election for the presidency and other officers in the club will take place.

Board Will Not Charge Rental

Saanich School Board will not charge a rental to municipal school organizations desiring use of auditoriums for social and athletic purposes, it was decided at a meeting of the board last night.

W. Garner, principal, and Miss E. Lucas, of Mount View High School staff, interviewed the board to ascertain what arrangements could be made regarding use of the auditorium for school dances, concerts and bachelorette parties.

It was decided that the board would make no charge, and would leave the matter of reimbursing the janitor and caretaker in the hands of the school body.

INFLUENZA IS MILD

Dr. Richard Felton, city medical health officer, reported yesterday that while there appeared to be a mild type of influenza prevalent in the city, it was not of a serious character. There had been an increase in the hospital admissions, he said. In one department of the City Hall, seven employees are on the sick list with influenza.

Potatoes Are Stolen

The city's park superintendent is harvesting a crop of potatoes in Beacon Hill Park, near the bowling greens. Someone, however, has found it is cheaper to steal potatoes than buy them, and has been stealing several sacks of the vegetable, it was reported to police. The potatoes were planted prior to preparing the ground for seeding of lawn and flower beds.

P.G.E. UNDER CLOSE STUDY

Special Committee of Cabinet Considers B.C. Basic Requirements

No deal for the Pacific Great Eastern Railway will be laid before the British Columbia Legislature unless the ability of purchasers to perform the letter of the contract is beyond question, Premier Tolmie declared yesterday, after members of the cabinet had spent several hours on consideration of Government requirements in the case.

"We want that road put through to the Alberta mountains," the Premier said, intimating that extension of the railway from its present terminus at Quenell would be a first essential to any terms that could be considered by the Government. "The receipt of a few millions without the extension of the line would be of no profit to the people of this province, and we intend to see that ability to perform is beyond all question, if we make a deal on the road," the Premier declared.

While no other statement was made, the cabinet is believed to have had the P.G.E. proposals before it in the morning, when a new committee of the cabinet was struck to deal further with the matter.

The composition of the committee could not be ascertained, but it is understood to comprise four members. The committee was struck after the cabinet had been in session with the many proposals that have been laid before the Government on the P.G.E. affair. The committee met again for several hours yesterday afternoon.

B.C. Estimates Are Returnable On November 15

Provincial estimates for the fiscal year 1933-34 will be returnable from each department to the cabinet on November 15, it was learned at the Legislative Buildings yesterday. This, however, is the usual order, and there is at present no indication that the next session of the Legislature will be held much before the closing week in January.

The Government has not yet fixed the date of the session, and is not expected to make its announcement until after Christmas. Thirty days was the notice given to members of the House this year, in respect to the last session.

LAI'D AT REST

The funeral of Mrs. Ewdokia Sorensen, who passed away on October 15, took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. A. M. H. Gies officiating. The casket was covered with beautiful floral tributes. The following were pallbearers: L. Smith, W. Fairclough, H. Gies, R. Thomsen. Interment was made in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

Mrs. Hewlings Called by Death

The death occurred yesterday, at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, of Gertrude Hewlings, wife of F. H. Hewlings, aged seventy years. Mrs. Hewlings was born in Ramsgate, Kent, England, coming to Canada forty-six years ago. She has lived in Victoria since that time, and is survived by her husband and two daughters, who reside here.

The remains are resting at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel. Leaving the chapel at 1:45 o'clock tomorrow, the cortege will proceed to St. John's Church, where the funeral service will be conducted at 2 o'clock by Ven. Archdeacon Laycock. Following the service, the remains will be sent to Vancouver for cremation, and interment of ashes will be made next week at Royal Oak Burial Park. The family requests that no flowers be sent.

PETITIONS IN LEGAL TANGLE

Early Closing May Now Be Achieved Through Technicality

Whether petitioners for an early closing by-law for gasoline service stations may win out on a legal technicality was a question that engaged the attention of civic officials yesterday. It appears that the only counter-petition that can be considered as nullifying the original petition is one that would demand the repeal of such a by-law. The original petition contained 75 per cent of those in the gasoline service station business, and it is claimed by those who signed it that the by-law should be drafted in accordance with the terms of the Municipal Act, which makes such action mandatory upon the council when the petition is signed by 75 per cent of those affected.

However, the counter-petition received by the council reveals duplication of names and makes the original petition less than 75 per cent of those affected. Whether this counter-petition can be considered is a matter that has to be decided upon.

The whole question, together with a report from C. L. Solicitor H. S. Pringle, will be dealt with at the public works committee meeting to be held on Friday afternoon.

LUMBER TRADE OPPORTUNITY

In the course of his explanation to Parliament of the trade agreements entered into by Canada at the late Imperial Conference, Mr. R. B. Bennett dealt particularly with the arrangement affecting timber products and the possibilities of increased trade between this country and Britain. This Dominion's lumber products are insured free entry to the ports of the United Kingdom, and by this arrangement a minimum margin of 10 per cent preference, as against any other nation, is guaranteed. The illustration provided by Mr. Bennett is that two ships, one from a foreign country and another from Canada, can enter a harbor of the United Kingdom laden with lumber. Before the foreign ship may tie up at the quay and discharge her cargo of timber, a minimum of $10,000 must be paid. The Canadian ship may unload without any such payment.

Mr. Bennett points out that the United Kingdom imports annually about 3,800,000,000 board feet of sawn lumber. He believes that of this amount Canada could supply 3,000,000,000 feet of softwood and about 170,000,000 feet of hardwood. With this expectation the industry can look forward to developments which will open up a market for a greatly increased proportion of its lumber products. He points out that the value of all ad valorem preferences in the United Kingdom is enhanced in consequence of the United Kingdom duty levied on the cost insurance freight valuation of imports. Then Mr. Bennett went on to say:

"Under normal conditions Canada exports annually about 1,800,000,000 board feet of lumber valued at $30,000,000, of which 1,445,000,000 feet valued at $29,000,000, has been going to the United States and 186,000,000 feet valued at $1,474,000 to the United Kingdom. The recent United States import tax of $3 per 1,000 board feet has practically closed that market to Canada. New markets are essential. This applies especially to lower and common grades, which comprise from 60 to 70 per cent of the lumber sawn. The Orient provides a market for some of the lower grades of British Columbia lumber, but for the Eastern provinces and a large part of the British Columbia output, the United Kingdom presents the only market capable of absorbing a sufficient manufacture of the higher grades for which there is a demand. I think the House will agree that this provision will insure a stability of market to Canadian producers of lumber which certainly they have not enjoyed hitherto."

CAPITAL INDEBTEDNESS OF C.N.R.

The Duff Transportation Commission draws attention to the capital indebtedness of the Canadian National Railways which is now $2,569,926,371. This amount, it is recommended, should be heavily written down, but at some more opportune time than the present. What object would be accomplished by such a method of book-keeping subterfuge is not stated. The taxpayers would not be relieved of a cent of the obligation they now shoulder. The earning power of the railway system would not be affected. All that might conceivably be accomplished by such a writing-down process would be to conceal from future generations the cost of public ownership.

A writing-down process of the capitalization of the nationally-owned railway system would mean that a billion dollars or so would disappear from the books of the company. It could not disappear from the books of the Federal Government. The public burden in the payment of interest and in the provision of sinking fund would continue unchanged. It is conceivable that such writing down would have an adverse effect. Politicians of the future—and political memories are short—would be encouraged, on the basis of a fictitious capitalization, to favor unwise and unnecessary capital expenditures on the state-owned system. There would not be the same incentive for economies as now prevails. That conception might easily be changed if a billion dollars of the Canadian National obligations were added to the National Debt of the country. The question of writing down is at best a proposal to camouflage the capital invested in the Canadian National system in the eyes of future generations. There would be neither economic sense nor financial wisdom in the pursuance of such a course.

THE WOMEN'S WORKROOM

It is not often that a philanthropic institution, as a result of its first year's operation, can show such a record of service as has been accomplished by the Women's Workroom. Obviously in these times there is the need for this method of alleviating distress. Obviously, too, that need has been met in a sustained and practical way and with the minimum of overhead cost. What has been done is at one and the same time a tribute to the self-sacrificing devotion of those ladies who have given their time and energy to the work, and to the tangible appreciation of the people generally of their efforts. There seems no doubt now that, with such success achieved, those who have been instrumental in organizing and conducting this medium of self help for those who would otherwise be workless will maintain their enthusiasm as long as the need exists. It may be hoped, too, that the public generally will continue support to an enterprise that has been conducted so admirably.

The record of the year's activities of the Women's Workroom was contained in the reports presented at the annual meeting. Those reports will be read with interest by all who, in some way or other, have had the privilege of assisting in the humane effort. The results should inspire an even greater philanthropic response on the part of the public than in the past. Like all such institutions, particularly in these times, better work can be done if those responsible for their successful conduct are not too heavily preoccupied by the burden of continuously devising ways and means for the raising of funds. The Women's Workroom has become a matter of co-operative effort all around, one in which every organization in the community which has the welfare of the "submerged tenth" at heart should play its part. Such co-operative effort, in the matter of seeing that there is an adequate supply of funds to carry on the work, will relieve those immediately responsible for the conduct of the enterprise from apprehension about its continuance.

The executive of the Women's Workroom has proved conclusively that it is wholly worthy of public trust by its business-like conduct of affairs during the first year of operation. It is launching its second year full of hope and sustained enthusiasm under the presidency of Mrs. Alan Morkill, who succeeds Mrs. P. B. Scurrell. The latter showed herself, during her regime of office, equipped with all those qualities so necessary for successful guidance of such an enterprise, including tact and womanliness and an abundance of the milk of human kindness. In effect, the record of the Women's Workroom is one of which the citizens are justifiably proud. It is certain that they will continue as in the past to rally to its support upon whatever occasion they may be asked for assistance.

A TERCENTENARY SERVICE

St. Paul's Cathedral today will be the scene of a service commemorative of the birth 300 years ago of its illustrious architect, Sir Christopher Wren. His burial place is in the crypt under the choir and there is a tablet in Latin of the well-known epitaph: "Reader, if you seek his monument, look around you." St. Paul's is a memorial worthy of this great creative genius, one of England's greatest, who was also one of her finest Christian gentlemen. At first a professor of astronomy, architecture attracted him and by architecture he made himself immortal. Fifty-four ecclesiastical edifices, besides St. Paul's, stand to his credit. Fifty other structures give ground for the statement that Sir Christopher was the greatest builder of all time. An enthusiast to the last, he erected St. Michael's, Cornhill, in his ninetieth year.

The great fire of 1666 that banished the plague and destroyed, along with fifty churches and many public buildings, the unsafe and unattractive old St. Paul's of Queen Elizabeth's day, gave Wren's untiring powers their opportunity. Far ahead of his time he envisioned a new London of broad streets and open spaces but conservation bled his plan. He only partially realized the cathedral of his dreams. Not in favor of the Gothic style of architecture, he erected in the spirit of the Renaissance a noble building with its broad facade, noble porticos and interior of vast spaciousness under the over-arching dome. Begun in 1675 it was thirty-five years in building. It stands as one of London's most majestic edifices and an English shrine, where rest her Nelson and her Wellington. The recent need of underpinning is ascribed to conditions over which the architect had no control. Sir Christopher Wren's greatness lay in his brilliant constructive imagination, coupled with skill as a practical builder. He lived a blameless life, marked by courtesy, reverence, integrity and purity, qualities none too frequent in his day.

Mr. J. L. Brown (Liasar) asked in Parliament if Mr. Neville Chamberlain was a son or grandson of Mr. Joseph Chamberlain. There ought to be a course in contemporary political history for politicians. Even the children in our elementary schools know who was the father of Britain's Chancellor of the Exchequer.

VEGETABLES FOR CANADA

Signs are not wanting to show that a good number of persons intend to grow vegetables in Jamaica. Their objective is the Canadian market. The line of vegetable culture that interests them most is tomato. Canada imports about two million dollars' worth of tomatoes between October of one year and May of the next. The bulk of the tomatoes that are offered for sale in Canada during the six months referred to are from the Southern States of America and the Republic of Mexico. The possibilities of the Canadian market should appeal to parties in Jamaica, as they have appealed to growers in some of the sister colonies. It is of importance to remember that the Dominion Government admits British West Indian tomatoes duty free, while the foreign produce is subject to a duty of 30 per cent ad valorem—Jamaica Clearer.

Note and Comment

By R. R. D.

Hence, hobbling dream; you threaten here in vain. —Shakespeare.

First it was the flying stunt, then it was the walking stunt, then there were stunts innumerable, and finally there was the most extraordinary stunt of all, the marriage stunt. The marriage stunt of course was "pulled off" by one of the stars of the movie colony. We assume it was when the brilliancy of the movie star began to fade just a little that she conceived the brilliant idea of a marriage stunt for advertising purposes. Marriages in the movie colony, as a rule, are not "made in heaven," or, if they are, heaven must be very busy making them, and after made they are frequently broken merely as a matter of convenience.

But the movie star who entered upon matrimony in order to attract attention and ginger up business appears to have forgotten that even in the land where there are no bounds to individual liberty there may be legal restrictions to individual liberty, that there may be penalties attached to contracting one marriage before the knot of a previous marriage has been loosed. So when charged before the courts with the offence of bigamy, the star of falling magnitude tearfully explained that her irregular marriage was merely an advertising stunt and that she could not understand all the fuss being made in the newspapers about it.

As we pointed out, first it was the flying stunt, and then it was the walking stunt. Before the walking stunt there was the public meeting stunt. Not so very long ago, when a more or less resourceful and esteemed citizen had convinced himself by observation of current events that there was something rotten in the state of the city or the country, he called a public meeting, made a speech, someone moved a resolution, which was adopted unanimously, and the meeting dispersed, and that was the end of the matter. But the walking stunt is somewhat different in its results. When an individual usually an individual with a peculiar way of seeing things, a logical conclusion that the world owes him something he cannot collect, he organizes a walking stunt and heads a procession to one of the many headquarters of governments.

The first walking stunt organized on this continent converged upon the Capitol at Washington, and then distributed itself throughout the United States without getting what it demanded at the Capitol. But there was an idea in that futile expedition, and the idea appears to have spread across the border into Canada, for there have since been a number of walking stunts performed in this country. We have seen some of them in Victoria, and while no one who saw them could help sympathizing with the objects of the stunts and deploring the necessity for them, neither could anybody reach any other conclusion than that the stunts were far from impressive and could not be otherwise than utterly futile.

The latest and least impressive walking stunt of all was that organized and carried out by a group of isolated farmers living in the northern parts of the province of Manitoba. This organization straggled into Winnipeg and made certain demands upon the provincial government. One of the demands was that the government should guarantee the farmers a minimum salary of one thousand dollars a year, some other things not necessary to mention, and free transportation back to the remote places from whence they came. The reply of Premier Bracken to the walking farmers was blunt and straightforward and rather unexpected from such a source. It was that the government could not concede their demands, and that as they had walked to the capital without being sent for they could walk back again without assistance from the public he represented.

Probably the most notable feature of the prairie farmers' walking stunt was the candor with which Mr. Bracken replied to their demands and the absurdity of their claims. Neither in Canada nor the United States has anyone in authority had the courage to state the position of the community so definitely and emphatically. The position as stated by the Premier practically was that if the government were to conduct the administration of the province upon a communistic basis the immediate result would be financial chaos.

One of the peculiar aspects of walking and other stunts which end in demands upon governments is that no one is concerned about "where the money is to come from." And yet the provinces of the Dominion have set ordinary people who do not stop to think an example in the popular pastime of "pulling off stunts." We have

NOT THE VICTORIA LADIES' CHOIR

Sir,—My attention has been drawn to an article which appeared in your issue of Sunday, October 9. I wish to express my appreciation to the writer who so kindly accorded me the honors mentioned. However, the caption and first paragraph of this article as printed in the paper have proved to be misleading. I wish it clearly understood that I, with most of the former executive and other prominent members, have for the past year had absolutely no connection with those who call themselves "The Victoria Ladies' Choir."

SMOKE NUISANCE

Sir,—I wish we could not see as much of the effect for smoke. Then we would have a chance of bumping into Mr. Prosperity, which seems so elusive these days. Let us have smokestacks and more smokestacks, which means more pay rolls. I wish I could see the idle ones belching forth good, honest black smoke. Then I would soon be meeting Mr. Prosperity.

AMPHION STREET PLAYGROUND

Sir,—The parents of children living around Amphion Street, Redford Street, Davis Street, Poll Street, Bank Street, Trent Street, Ducrest Street, Lee Avenue, Richmond Avenue and surrounding locality desire to express their sincere appreciation to the lands committee of the City Council, and particularly to Alderman Litchfield for his request to have a playground field situated in this district. Now that the council has decided to convert the field on Amphion Street into a playground, we are all looking forward to the time when the children will be able to play with safety.

"PROLIFIC POTATOES"

Sir,—In my letter under the above heading this morning, I am made to say that "the competitors produced in three years from one pound of seed" a round million pounds" which, to anyone knowing the facts, is absurd.

What I wrote was that three competitors each produced in one year from one pound of seed over 100 pounds and I pointed out that that rate of increase would yield in the second year 10,000 pounds and a million pounds in the third year.

PROLIFIC POTATOES

Sir,—As I am not a very small potato, I rather shrink from referring to the prodigious and prolific progeny of those three remarkable spuds mentioned in your columns yesterday by Mr. F. R. Leighton, but I am really puzzled by that gentleman's method of figuring. If the three competitors of the Victoria Horticultural Society referred to each planted a potato weighing one pound and each received in return 100 pounds by way of yield, then, if each of those 100 pounds yielding a similar increase, for example, 100 by 100 or 10,000 pounds, which being replanted still gave like increase of 100 for one, they would each have received the third year, 1,000,000 pounds (1,000,000 pounds of spuds), or a total of 3,000,000 pounds, a nice little mountain of 1,500 tons of potatoes. FINDING THE BEST BID

I have frequently pointed out that one of the most marked differences in rubber play and duplicate play under the Howell match point system of scoring is the forcing of the declaration into an unusual channel through players seeking to secure the highest possible score on any particular hand. In rubber bridge, whether you make a slam in no trump or a suit is obviously a matter of little moment. The determination with wise partners will rest upon what is the best bid in the combined hands. In duplicate, however, where each hand rewards the player with a number of points dependent upon his score as compared with the others, which is not only a question of finding the best game or slam bid, but the one that will give you the highest aggregate score. Thus the correct bid in rubber play might be the diamond or five clubs, but if the same hand would produce three no trump, the fact that we will score 106 for three no trump and only 100 for five clubs made in diamonds or clubs would cause the no trump bid to be preferred. Equally true, as between the choice of playing a hand at a major suit and no trump if the same number of tricks are available, duplicate players give up the margin of added safety of suit play because of the hopes for a top in no trump.

An interesting example of this was one of the hands played in the recent individual masters' championship event at Deal, N.J. At all six tables the hand was played at a slam, four partnerships electing to play it at diamonds, where the hand unquestionably normally should play. However, two players, Mr. Willard Karn, who donated the cup for which the masters were contending, and Mr. Richard L. Frey, who finished second last year and third this year, elected to play the hand at six no trump.

SMOKE NUISANCE

Sir,—In your issue of The Colonist of even date, on Page 5, there appears a report of a letter sent to the council complaining of the smoke nuisance in the city. One of the city representatives, Alderman James Adam, expressed a desire to see more smokestacks doing business.

The writer supposes that in these times of depression the city authorities could not engage the services of a nuisance inspector, if such an official is not already in existence. There might be work for him to attend to. There need be no offensive smoke if suitable smoke-consuming devices were fitted, comparatively so, if necessary, by so doing, two objects could be attained, the amenities of the city, beautiful Victoria, preserved, and business interests developed.

The writer has had considerable experience in connection with this matter of smoke abatement in a lengthy engineering experience.

TEST MANY COWSArrangements for the testing of 60,000 head of cattle in the restricted T.B.-free area of the Lower Fraser Valley were completed yesterday by the Government. The Province contributes $6,000 to the costs of the test, which will be conducted by a corps of Dominion veterinary officers shortly.
Some 44,000 cows were tested in the valley in 1928, 3,643 reacting, or 7.9 per cent reaction. In 1929, 50,603 cows were tested, only 183 reacting, or .37 per cent. This time, it is hoped, the area will improve its own record, a remarkable one in Canada.Minister of Public Works Says Politics
Must Be EliminatedHon. R. W. Bruhn Predicts Union Government Will Succeed—Urges Full Co-operation in Administration of Affairs of Province—Addresses Esquimalt Conservatives"PUBLIC service, not party warfare, a government without strife or interference, is the need of the province, and all the political whip cracking will never make the people forget what they are facing today," declared Hon.
R. W. Bruhn, Minister of Public Works, in an address characteristic of the member from Salmon Arm, given at the annual meeting of the Esquimalt Conservative Association last night.Mr. Bruhn appeared on the platform with Hon. R. H. Pooley, Attorney-General and member for Esquimalt. It was his first public address in the historic constituency, and he took occasion to remind the members of the association that Mr.
Pooley had been in office for almost five years and so far had conducted the affairs of his department without even the slightest breath of scandal, something that could not be said of some of the previous administrations."The interests of the whole province," Mr. Bruhn did not omit reference to T. D. Pattullo, leader of the Opposition, and he intimated that Mr.
Pattullo appeared to think that the only way to lead the Province out of its difficulties was in electing his party. He mentioned the anxiety of the Opposition leader to assume the reins of office at the Legislative Buildings and charged him with placing his personal and political ambitions before the welfare of the people of British Columbia."I will stake my reputation as a citizen and a member of this Government that not one single nickel
has been diverted from the work.
There will be a public affairs committee sitting when the House is in session, and I am ready to lay every file of my department in the hands of the committee for the fullest investigation. I have nothing to hide.
The Government has nothing to be ashamed of in the operation of the unemployment camps," Mr. Bruhn hotly declared.Mr. Bruhn took occasion to pay tribute to the single men unemployed for the way they had behaved during the crisis of last Winter. "There are just as good men among the unemployed in this province as the men sitting in this audience tonight. They have, by their poor, given this province roadways that it would have been impossible to have constructed by any other means, and to critics I would say that they have paid for all the camps that we constructed."As to the coming election in 1932, Mr. Bruhn predicted that the union forces would be successful, and in the Legislature there would be an atmosphere of confidence instead of suspicion.The new Congoleum

Anglican Pastors
To Make Up Funds
Stolen by MachrayMONTREAL, Oct. 19 (CP).—Sacrifice on the part of Anglican clergymen in Canada amounting to 2 per cent of their stipends is part of plans formulated to make good the losses sustained through misappropriation of funds of the Western ecclesiastical province of Rupert's Land by John Machray.
A levy of 7 per cent will be made upon the stipends of agents of the Missionary Society of the Canadian Church.completing its five years in office without one single scandal. "Can you truthfully say that of other administrations?" Mr. Bruhn asked. "I have no use for anyone who sits on the sidelines and levels criticism against the players who are bearing the brunt of the struggle.""The next few years the minister said, would be the testing time for the people of Canada. He predicted there would be important industrial and social changes, but he could not say what form those changes would take, but he challenged the exponents of other systems in vogue to other counts to show any better system of industrialization than that of Canada—even in these difficult times."The unemployment situation is one that the Minister of Public Works has had to shoulder during the last two and a half years, and in his address last night he defended the efforts of his department to meet the situation which, he declared, was unforeseen. He was fair enough to admit that there had been mistakes made by engineers and officials in the field, but he emphatically denied that any funds had been diverted from the work for which they were intended."I will stake my reputation as a citizen and a member of this Government that not one single nickel
has been diverted from the work.

mittee sitting when the House is in

AND BROKERS ALIKEOTTAWA, Oct. 19.—In clear-cut
and very emphatic language, Hon.
Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice,
told the House of Commons today
that ten brokers released from penitentiary had been treated like any other first-offending prisoner or
"pickpocket." The general practice
of clemency had governed each case,
the Minister declared. Each released broker had served half his sentence. His conduct had been reported upon favorably by the warden, and he had earned six days' remission for each month of his incarceration for good behavior."Why do you need the parrot in

The Esquimalt Conservative Association unanimously endorsed the stand of Premier S. F. Tolmie on a union government for British Columbia at the annual meeting of the association last night.
The association also passed a vote of confidence in Hon. R. H. Pooley, Attorney-General and member for Esquimalt riding, and a vote of congratulation to Hon. R. B. Bennett for the success of the Imperial Economic Conference and the hope that the measures adopted at the conference would be approved in the House of Commons.Officers Elected Sidney R. Bowden will lead the Esquimalt Conservatives in 1933, having been declared elected to the position by acclamation. Mr. Bowden is commencing his fifth year as president. Alexander Lockley was elected vice-president by acclamation, and D. A. Henry was chosen as secretary-treasurer without opposition.
Members of the executive elected follow: Robert Dent, C. H. Smith, Mrs. S. R. Bowden, W. Barker, Mrs.
C. H. Smith, A. Porter, Thomas Hadfield, G. Stancombe, Major J. A. P.
Crompton, Elmer V. Finland, A. E.
Cave and Mrs. A. Booth.The meeting passed a vote of appreciation for the untiring efforts put forward by President Bowden, the other officers and members of the executive committee, in the interests of the association during the past year.
Mr. Bowden addressed the meeting briefly and expressed his appreciation of the assistance given to him by the members of the association during the past year. He urged that every effort be made to maintain the association's activities.Beautiful Model of Torrens ExhibitedA beautiful model of the passenger clipper ship Torrens has recently been built for Sir James Laing & Sons, Ltd., of Sunderland, who has loaned it to the Sunderland Public Museum. The 1,276-ton Torrens, the last of the full-rigged composite passenger clippers, was famous in her time, and made a record voyage to Australia in sixty-four days. Aboard her, Joseph Conrad, the novelist, served as mate (1891-93) before he look to writing.She was built in 1875 by James Laing at Sunderland. She was 221 feet long and was rigged after the Cutty Sark, the famous China clipper, by T. Morley, who is still living in Sunderland and supervised the making of this model. The Torrens was broken up at Genoa in 1910.
A large photograph of this new model of the Torrens was recently received by Major Longstaff.

AND BROKERS ALIKEOTTAWA, Oct. 19.—In clear-cut
and very emphatic language, Hon.
Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice,
told the House of Commons today
that ten brokers released from penitentiary had been treated like any other first-offending prisoner or
"pickpocket." The general practice
of clemency had governed each case,
the Minister declared. Each released broker had served half his sentence. His conduct had been reported upon favorably by the warden, and he had earned six days' remission for each month of his incarceration for good behavior."Why do you need the parrot in your divorce suit?"

—yet they agree on this TOOTH PASTENew luster, new brilliance new safety with this thrill dentifriceOne woman could afford to pay $2.00 a tube for tooth paste if she felt like it. The other, with a growing family to look out for, must shop sharply. Yet both are constant users of Listerine Tooth Paste, the quality dentifrice at the common sense price.
Both have discovered from actual experience, by critical comparison with other dentifrices, that Listerine
Tooth Paste accomplishes amazing results. More than two million women have discarded fancy-priced brands in favor of Listerine Tooth Paste at 25 cents.If you are open-minded, we think you will want to try it yourself. You will never spend a quarter more wisely.
When you begin to use it, you will see why it has attained such tremendous popularity.
New luster and brilliance
Note how swiftly and thoroughly it cleans—but how gently. Only the safest of ingredients are used.
See how the modern polishingagents it contains add fresh luster and brilliance to teeth that used to be dull.
Note how quickly these agents remove ugly tartar, unsightly discolorations, disgusting tobacco stains.
Firm, healthy gums
After you have used this paste a week, examine your gums. They'll appear healthier. And feel healthier.
And look for that wonderful feeling of exhilaration and mouth cleanliness that follows its use—the delightfully refreshing effect you associate with Listerine itself.

DOMINION TO ASSUME COSTHomeless Single Men Will
Be First Charge on Federal Government

While official pronouncement has not yet been made, several departments of the Provincial Government are proceeding on the assumption that the Dominion Government will take over the cost of caring for "homeless single men" in the province this winter. It was learned yesterday at the Legislative Building.

Whether this will involve provision for single men in their homes, as well as transients without dependents, remains to be seen, but about 20,000 registered unemployed are listed in the combined census.

Circles close to the Government say arrangements have been made whereby the Dominion authorities will utilize a number of provincial camps, and maintain single men there at a fixed maximum cost of $12 a month per man, to be expended in care, shelter and food, etc., at the rate of 40 cents a day per head. If this is done, it is assumed the province will be asked to continue small monthly allowances to the men.

No intimation has yet been given as to what will be done in respect to men with dependents, approximately 15,000 of whom are registered as unemployed in the province.

WANT BAN CONTINUED
The British Columbia Government, it was learned, is supporting Vancouver efforts to maintain watchful check on the westbound trains, in full realization of the hundreds of men who come from British Columbia last fall from many other provinces, and remained as charges on communities that would ill support them in relation to their own burdens. Prairie efforts to have the freight-train ban lifted by Ottawa will be stoutly resisted.

No indication was given by the Government during the day as to new plans on unemployment relief.

Beyond the fact that Dr. W. J. Black, special agent for the Federal Department of Labor, would return to the city today for further conferences.

High School Fees
System in Saanich
Proves Successful

THE system of collecting high school fees from Saanich pupils more than six years of age has proved most satisfactory, the Saanich School Board learned at its meeting last night.

It was reported that nearly 100 per cent collection had been made, and members of the board expressed gratification at the success of the system which was instigated prior to the opening of the present school term.

WINTER FAIR IN VANCOUVER OFFGovernment to Supervise Seed Fair to Be Held in Victoria

VANCOUVER, Oct. 19.—Under present conditions it will be impossible to hold a winter fair in Vancouver this year. So stated a report from the board of control of Vancouver Exhibition Association to a meeting of association directors this afternoon.

Although this decision was made by the board of control with great reluctance, it was found to be necessary because of the expense of undertaking a winter exhibition, Walter Leek, president of the association, explained.

The report said that a seed fair would be staged at Victoria under supervision of the Provincial Government, and that it was understood a private firm will sponsor an auction sale of beef, sheep and swine for a Christmas market.

It further explained that proposals were afoot to reorganize the winter fair next year after consultation with farmers in various parts of the province.

OTTAWA, Oct. 19 (CP).—A total of $2,996,140 was disbursed to the cities of Vancouver, Calgary, Regina, Toronto and Quebec from last March to date under the Government's unemployment and federal relief plan, according to a return tabled in the House of Commons today. This sum was distributed in part in direct relief and in public works.

The totals for the various cities follow: Vancouver, $772,484.13; Calgary, $580,080.84; Regina, $234,044.76; Toronto, $1,006,713.44; Quebec, $282,297.35.

HARVEST SOCIAL HELD

NANAIMO, Oct. 19.—Rev. Canon H. V. Hiltchcock opened the proceedings with a brief address on the harvest social held in the Legion Hall last evening by the Ladies' Guild of St. Paul's Church.

Vocal solos were rendered during the evening by Mrs. T. Parsons, Mrs. J. Rennie and Mr. P. Creagh. Mr. W. Hart delighted the audience with monologues, while Ralph Finer, James Rutherford and Lawrence Matthews were greatly appreciated in instrumental trios.

Refreshments were served, convened by Mrs. F. Robinson and Mrs. S. Fairhurst, with a committee of able assistants. A dance brought the evening to a close.

R. H. Williams, well known Welsh historian, has died at Plas Merion, Wales, aged sixty-five.

ART DISPLAY TO END THIS WEEKIncreasing Interest Shown in Exhibition On View at Belmont House

As the closing days of the annual exhibition of the Arts and Crafts Society at the Belmont House draw near, more and more interest is being taken in the splendid display of water-colors, oils, black and white, miniatures, and the numerous well-arranged handicrafts. Afternoon tea is also well patronized each day, being served in the attractive main floor.

On entering the first water-color room one is immediately arrested by P. Cannoche's picture of a bit of the Canadian Rockies, and nearby is Rose Wille's colorful Victoria Garden. E. M. Hopkins' "Path to the Colowide" (9) is a simple composition, but shows strikingly good treatment.

T. Bamford's "Short Sands" has breadth of treatment, but arresting color and simplicity. T. E. Gore is represented by a picture of the Empress Hotel in its bright dress of Autumn tints. "Early Morning," by D. S. Gerson, has clear color with little wisps of morning mist well portrayed.

WATER-COLOR GEM

P. M. Young, another constant exhibitor, also enters a study in cloud and mist, and E. Penn's "October" is one of the water-color gems. L. B. Kent's "Lyonesse" is a typical country home painted with sure technique. J. Crease, one of the charter members of the society, shows two pictures of the Okanagan country which at once transport the observer to the land of the sage-brush.

The visitor always anticipates with pleasure and looks eagerly for Mrs. Atken's flower pictures, and more than one example of zinnias has been studied with delight by patrons. H. W. Souley's sea has the right atmosphere and movement to make it very realistic. R. Bullen has entered one of her characteristically naturalistic canvases which transcend the bold coloring and dimension of the country portrayed. In a painting of "Early Morning," Maude Lettice has caught the mystery of morning atmosphere and its subtle coloring. G. Newton's mountain scenery, as usual, is very pleasing, and A. E. Leather has caught Quamichan Lake's peculiar charm.

KEEPING NAME QUIET
Until Launching Day

A statement issued from the Paris office of the French Line in regard to the naming of the new superliner soon to be launched at St. Nazaire says:

From some incorrect and unofficial source, it has been widely stated that the new giant liner building for the French Line, and officially known up to the present time as T-6, will be named the President Doumer. This is incorrect, for the new liner will not be named President Doumer, and the name chosen will not be made public until the moment of the launching, which will take place on October 29.

CLEMENCY SHOWN BY AUTHORITIES

Fines of $300 imposed on taxi drivers for infraction of the Government Liquor Act in prosecutions at Vancouver and Victoria were returned this week by the Government in three instances.

The reason for executive clemency in each case rested on the magistrates' report, all three cases involving the securing of evidence in the first place through use of police informers, who ordered drinks and paid with marked money.

Deposits said to contain a large quantity of aluminum are to be developed in Manchuria.

Folk Dances Witnessed By Numerous Spectators

Unusually Interesting Entertainment Furnished by Victoria Musical Arts Society at Shrine Auditorium—Major T. H. Hinton Speaks

The Shrine Auditorium witnessed a very charming entertainment yesterday afternoon when, under the auspices of the Victoria Musical Arts Society, a programme of folk dances was given by specially trained groups of girls from various schools of the city. The occasion attracted an unusually large audience, which sat in circular formation about a cleared space in the middle of the room where the majority of the dances took place, and throughout the entire fourteen numbers the spectators followed with enthusiasm and critical interest the fascinating movements of the children.

The dances were preceded by a short talk by Major T. H. Hinton on the history and origin of folk dancing. In this he entered into a description of the influences which had tended to this form of expression, the three major ones being the geographical influence, the political influence and the musical influence.

"Rhythm, melody and harmony are the fundamentals of the folk dance as they are the fundamentals of music," he noted, making the reservation, however, that harmony was absent from some of the aboriginal dances of Australia and Africa, where rhythm alone was the medium of expression. In the earliest times the folk dance of England and Europe was probably equally simple, but as known to history the three elements of rhythm, melody and harmony entered into it.

GEOGRAPHICAL INFLUENCE
Various influences classified as

"geographical" were named by the speaker, who recalled, for instance, that a dance known in Queen Elizabeth's reign as "The Canaries" had its origin in the Canary Islands; the Romanesque derived from Rome, and the Tarantella from Taranto, in Italy, although tradition had it that the dance was supposed to be a panacea for the bite of the tarantula. The Strathspey came from the Valley of the Spey in Scotland, and the Cracowa dance from Cracow.

The influence of the Moors in Spain was found in the dances of that country to this day, and another political influence might be seen in "Hudson House," which had a French origin.

Touching on the influence of musical instruments in folk dancing, Major Hinton mentioned that the Irish jig received its name from the Irish instrument known as the "geige," and the hornpipe also was named after an instrument. Reference was also made to the influence of bagpipe music on Scottish national dances.

THE PROGRAMME

Convened by Mrs. W. H. Wilson, the dances yesterday brought girls from six or eight schools in picturesque costumes appropriate to the national dances in which they were participating. In each instance in charge of their teachers, the children gave animated and expressive demonstrations which showed how very closely related traditional folk dance is to the spirit of children in all ages.

June Collyer and Junior

Especially effective and spirited were the highly animated "St. Patrick's Day Jig," performed by a group of colleens (appropriately dressed) from Sir James Douglas School and in charge of Miss Thompson; the "Six-Hand Reel," of involved steps but happily danced by twenty-four small girls from the Girls' Central, in charge of Miss Margison; the "Irish Lilt," by a bevy of maidens (including three or four bright-eyed Chinese girls) from the North Ward School, in charge of Miss McNeill, and Miss Bradshaw's girls' pretty performance of "Picking Up Sticks" and "Black Nag."

BIGGER GIRLS
Eight high school girls, considerably larger than the foregoing, participated in "If All the World Were Paper" and "Gathering Peasods," their movements showing grace and rhythm. These girls are part of Miss Mona Miller's class. Castanets and tambourines were used to emphasize the rhythm of the "Tarantella" and "Kamarinka," danced by four girls from Sir James Douglas School, these girls being trained by Miss Eise Smith and Miss Thompson. "Old Mole" and "Hudson House," performed by eight girls from South Park School, under Miss McNeill's direction, showed a quiet grace.

For the splendidly animated and technically brilliant sailor's hornpipe, Highland Fling and sword dance given by Miss Adeline Grant, pipe music was furnished by Ian Duncan. These roused the audience to great enthusiasm also.

Mrs. W. A. Jamieson, president of the Musical Arts Society, thanked all the performers before the conclusion of the proceedings, and prior to the entertainment tea was served.

Sun Shines on Royal Pair Wed in Germany

Scenes of Splendor in Coburg When Princess Sybille and Prince Gustaf Are Married—Torchlight Procession Held at Night

COBURG, Germany, Oct. 19 (AP)—Princess Sybille of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, who is famed for her democratic manner and her queenly dignity, became the wife today of Gustaf Adolf Oscar, eldest son of the Crown Prince of Sweden.

The wedding day saw a phenomenon of nature heralded by the superstitious townsfolk as an indication that happiness was in store for the royal couple, who some day may rule Sweden.

The simple civil ceremony was performed in a room of the ancient Coburg Castle before a glittering array of nobility and townspeople.

SUNNY FUTURE
All day it had rained, and the formal decorations with which the town was bedecked, became bedraggled. But when Princess Sybille and Prince Gustaf emerged from the historic castle after the ceremony to receive the cheers of the multitude, the sun broke through the clouds. Here was evidence that a sunny life lay before them.

The bridegroom, attired in an ordinary cutaway, reviewed a Reichswehr company and then with his bride and a group of friends, drove to old St. Moritz Church, to rehearse the religious ceremony to be held tomorrow. He paid a duty call on former Czar Ferdinand of Bulgaria, who is the senior of the House of Coburg, from which many royal Europeans have taken their spouses.

In compliance with the desire of the Swedish court, flags and emblems of Adolf Hitler's National Socialist party were removed from public display places, and in their stead were substituted the colors of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha.

TORCHLIGHT PARADE
Tonight a torchlight procession of 5,000 marchers passed through the streets to the Schlossplatz to make the act of homage to the bride and bridegroom.

The bride, a comely young woman of twenty-four (the bridegroom is twenty-six) will wear for the religious service a train presented by

St. Aidan's W.M.S. Has Tea Party

The Women's Missionary Society of St. Aidan's United Church celebrated its twenty-first anniversary yesterday afternoon with a tea at the church hall, which had been beautifully decorated for the occasion. Masses of autumn leaves and flowers were arranged with charming effect, and on the tea tables were bronze chrysanthemums and asters, the large birthday cake with its twenty-one lighted candles holding the place of honor.

Mrs. H. J. Armistead, wife of the minister, welcomed the guests, who numbered more than one hundred, and she was assisted by Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Frank Jennings and Mrs. Fred Dawson. Miss Margaret Irvine, the only member who had been present at the organization meeting twenty-one years ago had the honor of lighting the candles and of cutting the cake.

Mrs. Percy Boorman was responsible for the decorations, and tea was poured by Mrs. William Jennings and Mrs. R. H. Beare.

Mrs. Nellie McClung was the speaker of the afternoon, introduced by Mrs. Armistead, and gave a most interesting talk on "The Adventure of Living." Mr. Percy Boorman played several violin selections, accompanied at the piano by Miss Barbara Dawson. Miss Marjorie Watson sang several enjoyable numbers, playing her own accompaniments. Among the guests were representatives from the Women's Missionary Societies of other churches in the city.

Nea-Kah-Nie Continuing Series Here

The second concert of the Nea-Kah-Nie chamber music series is scheduled to take place on Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. W. C. Nichol, Rockland Avenue, when the quartette will play the Beethoven Opus 95, one of the later things written by the great master for such an aggregation of instruments, and Pognanyi's Opus 15 B Flut. Major, which is also a very fine composition.

On this occasion, Mme. Eva Baird, dramatic soprano, will sing two numbers, Respighi's "Il Tramonto" and "La Foca dell'Adriatico," the words of which, "The Lost Ring," were written by Shelley, the reading of which, beforehand, it is suggested by the sponsors of the programme would refresh the memory of many in the audience who have perhaps forgotten the poem.

PARIS STYLES

By MARY KNIGHT
United Press Staff Correspondent.
PARIS (UP).—One reads a great deal about the kinds of clothes the great couturiers design for the world of smart women, but does not hear so much about the kinds of smart clothes these creators of the mode design for their own personal use. Today, however, I am letting you in on some of the very private costumes selected by Mme. Schiaparelli herself for a recent London trip.

Among her selections was the No. 447—a suit in light castor brown wool with a periwinkle blue jersey blouse. The comfortable short jacket has side pockets and fastens with laces that slip through a copper metal plaque. To transform it into an ideal country costume she merely has to replace the jacket by a close-fitting short cardigan of deep blue that has round, gold fastenings that work like an ordinary "snapper." A topcoat of the same brown wool with round yoke covering the tops of the arms is worn with it.

For town wear Mme. Schiaparelli has selected her own "408" in black. The important feature of the coat is the draped, rounded collar edged with silver fox that flares out over the shoulders.

Will Describe New Movement in Art
A special meeting of the Women's Canadian Club has been arranged for Wednesday, October 26, to hear Mrs. Dorothy Parsons, one of Canada's leading art critics, who will speak on the "New Movement in Art." A native of France, Mme. Bietry-Salinger, lived for many years in Asia, where she used every opportunity to study the art of the people and the art treasures of the world.

After marrying an American, she moved to San Francisco, and there founded the well-known art magazine, "The Argo." For the last six years she has been living in Toronto, where again she has thrown herself energetically behind art, and has become an integral part of the progressive movement there. She has the reputation of being as able a speaker as she is a writer.

Miss Dorothy Parsons will be the soloist.

'HOLD 'EM JAIL'
STARS COMEDIANS

Wheeler and Woolsey Appearing in New Comedy Opening at Capitol Today

The thought of a prison football team is funny enough to begin with. But when it is carried out to the extreme in absurd equations, when the entire prison is given a collegiate atmosphere with bands, cheering sections and an enthusiastic alumni with quaint and original methods of obtaining new gridiron talent, the basic idea easily becomes a laugh riot. Just how funny the whole nonsensical whim can be is demonstrated by the RKO-Radio picture, "Hold 'Em Jail," starting today at the Capitol Theatre, with Bert Wheeler, Robert Woolsey, Edna May Oliver and Roscoe Ates in the leading roles.

The vehicle is the happiest selection possible for Wheeler and Woolsey. The picture is a delightful nonsense which makes it an ideal for the comedies' unique style of fun-making. Besides the antics of Wheeler and Woolsey and Miss Oliver and Ates, Edna May Oliver bids for plenty of howls as the futile and apologetic warden. Warren Hymer, as a dumb cluck convict, and Paul Hurst, coach, are also in the fun contest.

A cross-section of life within a cosmopolitan hotel, with tragedy rubbing elbows with comedy is seen in "Hotel Continental," from an original story by F. Hugh Herbert and Paul Perez, adapted by Warren B. Duff. The story is concerned with the events that take place on the last night of a famous hotel—a hotel intimately connected with the life of a great city. Hundreds of persons crowd its doors before the auctioneers take possession on the morrow, and numerous parties bid it adieu.

Peggy Shannon and Theodore von Elza in leading roles are ably supported by a fine cast.

AMUSEMENTS

On the Screen
Capitol—Wheeler and Woolsey in "Hold 'Em Jail," starring Buck Jones.

Dominion—Marlene Dietrich in "The Blonde Venus."
Empire—"Self-Made Lady," featuring Heather Angel.
Playhouse—Helen Chandler in "Salvation Nell."
Romano—"Traveling Husbands," starring Evelyn Brent.

Crystal Garden—Swimming and Dancing.

ported by J. Farrell MacDonald, Alan Mowbray, Henry B. Walthall, Rockliffe Fellowes, Ethel Clayton, Bert Roach and William Scott.

DOMINION Little Dickie Moore, THEATRE who plays a part in Marlene Dietrich's starring picture, "Blonde Venus," at the Dominion Theatre, is a veteran of five years' experience on the screen. He is only six! As a babe of one year he played the role of John Barrymore as an infant in "The Beloved Rogue." Dickie has been in more than a dozen films since then.

EMPIRE Heather Angel's acting THEATRE belongs to the realistic school. If she must cry, she cries copiously. If she must then she kisses well and truly. And if her role demands that she fight, her opponent prepares for a painful and unhappy time. That was the reason George King filmed the opening scene of "Self-Made Lady" last. It showed Heather as a simple slum girl fighting a stout loud (played by Ronald Ritchie) who had insulted her. And George King was taking no risk of Miss Angel being so damaged in the fight as to delay the filming of her metamorphosis into a fashionable dress designer. "Self-Made Lady" is at the Empire Theatre.

'TRAVELING HUSBANDS' IS COMEDY AT ROMANO

The romantic adventures of road merchants is amusingly told in Radio Pictures' "Traveling Husbands," now showing at the Romano Theatre.

A ceaseless parade of comedy and dramatic situations follow each other from the beginning to the end of the picture. Directed by Paul Sloane, the film boasts an unusually capable comedy cast, including Evelyn Brent, Frank Albertson, Constance Cummings, Hugh Herbert, Dorothy Peterson, Rita La Roy, Purnell Pratt and others.

Playhouse Offers
'Salvation Nell'

A real treat is in store for the patrons of the Playhouse Theatre when "Salvation Nell," adapted for the screen from the play by E. B. Sheldon, in which Mrs. Fluke enjoyed the greatest success of her career, will be presented today.

This is the story of the battle of an illiterate girl and boy to find happiness. When Nell Saunders finds that her man, Jim Platt, is doomed for a life of wickedness, she turns to religion as the one great force she believes can help him. An amazing story of love and faith is revealed in this dramatic picturization of two souls fighting against odds. Ralph Graves and Helen Chandler play the leads in this all-star cast.

Warner Baxter is surrounded by an exceptionally strong cast in his latest, Fox picture, "Amateur Dancer," which is the added attraction at the Playhouse Theatre. In the leading feminine role is Marian Nixon, with Rita LaRoy, William Pawley and David Landau in the other featured parts.

Dainty Dances
In "The Geisha"

Miss Violet Powkes has charge of the ballet, and after seeing the girls and boys in rehearsal, one can be frank and say that something quite out of the ordinary is being thought out in connection with the production of "The Geisha," which will be presented at the Royal Victoria Theatre, Friday and Saturday, October 28 and 29.

The dances introduced by Miss Powkes are dainty and in character of the opera. Her grouping is charming and the girls are all talented dancers and have, under the excellent tutelage of their coach, achieved wonders.

'HIGH SPEED' NEW
BUCK JONES' FILM

Auto racing provides the plot for "High Speed," new Buck Jones' vehicle for Columbia, coming to the Columbia Theatre today.

The colorful locale of a famous national speedway with its cheering crowds, flashing helmets, speeding cars, high-powered betting and tense excitement serves as the background for a mile-a-minute speed story. To break the tape at the finish line meant life, love and fortune for Bill Toomey. Death-defying exploits are featured in the story in which men's reputations are the spoils of a race-track victory and brawn battles with the cunning brain of a gambling king that "fixes" races and sacrifices lives to gain his nefarious ends.

Buck Jones, who has won an enviable reputation as the foremost delineator of thrill-packed Western roles, temporarily dismounts from the well-known "Silver" to give his fans new thrills via another medium—auto racing.

Cleo Lucas' popular novel, "I Jerry, Take Thee, Joan," has been dramatized and now becomes the co-starring vehicle for Sylvia Sydney and Frederick March, two of Hollywood's younger favorites. Parson's "The Great Gatsby" is the story of the conversion of Miss Lucas' story into dramatic form, which is now presented under the paroxysmal title "Merrily We Go To Hell," the added attraction at the Columbia Theatre.

Special Music in Outstanding Film

Music plays an important part in Metro-Gwyn-Mayer's picturization of the famous Vicki Baum novel and play, "Grand Hotel," which will be shown on Saturday at the Dominion Theatre.

Through a novel method of synchronization, Director Edmund Goulding underlines the action and dialogue in the drama with a superb music, composed by himself in collaboration with orchestration experts.

Considering who wrote the music for "Love, Thy Magic Spell Is Everywhere" and other numbers, planned the musical score to emphasize the emotional intensity of the scenes and to interpret the varying moods of the action. Particularly effective use of music was made in the love scenes between Greta Garbo and John Barrymore.

"I beg your pardon, sir, but what is your name?" the cashier politely asked the man presenting a cheque. "Name?" replied the customer. "Don't you see my signature on the cheque?"

"That's what aroused my curiosity," "I do," answered the cashier. "What do you want to do?"

Peter Rabbit was worried. He had been told by Flip the Terrier was hard on Peter's heels. Peter had known that Flip could run fast. Twice already since the race for the old white wall, Peter had been at his very heels, and only Peter's ability to dodge had saved him. He had hoped that this time he would be able to do it. He had seen before Flip could catch him, but now he knew that he couldn't. He would have to dodge again and again, but how with pain. What would he do in that case? Well, I suppose, deliberated the medical man, "I should howl with pain."

An instant later Flip was coughing and struggling and yelping and rolling over and over in the grass.

few more jumps will do it; just a few more jumps." "Sunny Jay and Welcome Robin, who had been screaming fanatic agreement to Peter, were silent now, and Skimmer the Swallow, darting about over Peter and Flip, no longer twittered. What was going to do? Something was going to happen, but what? Was Peter long into more trouble. Why didn't he dodge?

At last Peter did dodge. He dodged in just that same remarkable manner in which he had dodged before. Flip was barely a jump behind him when Peter shot off at an angle. And as before, Flip could not turn without stopping and could not stop without overrunning. He tried. My, how he tried. You see, not until Peter shot off to one side did Flip know that anyone else was about. Now he found himself rushing headlong into the bushes, facing him and apparently not in the least frightened, stood Jimmy Skunk, his big clumsy tail over his back in the way that everyone knows who knows him at all knows mean danger.

Flip knew. He had had one experience with Jimmy Skunk when he had first come to Farmer Brown's to live and first made Jimmy's acquaintance. Ever since that time he had been most polite to Jimmy and had taken pains to keep out of his way, or at least to do no more than bark at him from a very safe distance. Now here he was rushing straight at Jimmy as if he meant to attack him. He did his best to put the brakes on and stop in time. But he was traveling too fast and was too near. He looked as if he was bound to run right into Jimmy. He did stop before that happened, but it was too late.

Four feet from Jimmy he slid to a full stop, but Jimmy hadn't waited. He had used that little scent gun and an instant later Flip was coughing and straining and yelping and rubbing his eyes and almost wishing he never had been born. Welcome Robin and Sunny Jay were screaming again, making fun of him. Peter Rabbit had stopped to look on and grin. Jimmy Skunk had turned and gone back into the bushes in the most unconcerned manner as if he had no further interest in the matter.

When at last he could see, Flip sneaked away toward the barn. Peter hopped over to the old wall where he found Jimmy Skunk. "Thank you, Jimmy," said he. "I guess you saved my life that time. I hated to do it, but I just had to."

REV. DR. SWITZER
ADDRESSES BODY

Oak Bay United Pastor Is Guest Speaker at Children's Leaders' Council Meeting

A meeting of the Children's Leaders' Council of Victoria was held in the Sunday schoolroom of Emmanuel Baptist Church, on Tuesday night.

The guest speaker was Rev. Dr. Gerald Switzer, of Oak Bay United Church, who took charge of the devotional exercises, his subject being "Be Still and Know God." His address was most striking and powerful.

Rev. Bruce G. Gray told the meeting of the Leaders' Training School to be held at the Memorial Hall, November 1, 2, 3 and 8, 9 and 10, and received several applications.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved, and a roll call of churches took place. Eight United churches, the Baptist churches, one Douro of England and the Lake Hill Mission were represented by about fifty persons.

SESSIONS HELD

Sessions of beginners' and primary leaders and one of junior leaders were held in different rooms. Those taking part in the primary session were Miss E. Jones (Metropolitan), Miss Mollie Lait (Metropolitan), and Mrs. V. Taylor (Emmanuel Baptist). In the junior session were Mrs. E. Jones (Metropolitan), and Mrs. E. Jones (Metropolitan), and Mrs. E. Jones (Metropolitan).

The hymn, "This is My Father's World," was demonstrated by Miss D. Baillie (Oak Bay United), and a temperance lesson was given by Mrs. M. C. Wilkinson (Metropolitan). The meeting closed with an impressive candle lighting ceremony, led by F. W. McKinnon (Douglas Street Baptist), representing the church; H. W. Ralston (Centennial), as the general superintendent; Mrs. M. C. Wilkinson (Metropolitan), as the primary leader, and Miss E. Jones (Metropolitan), as the junior leader; these lighting the large white candles of the "teachings."

A square was formed and all sang "Blest Be the Tie that Binds." Mr. McKinnon led in prayer.

Wilson is always giving gratuitous advice. Not long ago he met a doctor at a dinner party. "Do you know," he said as soon as there was a chance, "I know a man who suffers so desperately from neuritis that at times he can do nothing but howl with pain. What would you do in that case?" Well, I suppose," deliberated the medical man, "I should howl with pain."

What Today Means to YOU
by MARY BLAKE

"LIRRA"

If October 20 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. to 11:15 a.m., from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m., and from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. The danger periods are from 8:15 a.m. to 9 a.m. and from 4:30 p.m. to 5:45 p.m.

Thy work, thy heavenly signs that would make this October 30 other than an ordinary day in affairs both in business and at home. Greater activity will probably be noticed in the late afternoon hours. A feeling of contentment will seem to be apparent in those with whom you come in contact. No unusual events near at hand.

Parents of children born on this October 20 will derive unusual satisfaction and pleasure from them. These children will be affectionate and loving, and their sympathetic natures will tend to bring them close to their parents. They like attention, and this desire to be noticed will prove a moving force in the doing of their school work. Guard them against undue conceit.

If October 20 is the day of your birth, you will probably lead a very normal and routine existence. At times you are inclined to chafe under the yoke of routine existence and to feel that you would like to get away from it all and lead a less ordered life. Your interests are very largely though not entirely in your work. If you have a hobby, and you should have one, it is probably painting, writing, or perhaps music. You are fond of music and should get a great deal of pleasure in playing some instrument. Quite probably your mind has an inventive turn, and you are forever working with some gadget or other which you hope some day to put on the market.

You are a pleasant person to work with, cheerful without being offensively so, and never grouchy. You are kind, always willing to lend a hand to a fellow worker and sometimes too sympathetic. At these times you may find yourself doing double duty and carrying another's burden or duties which have been shifted to your shoulders. You are an amiable and loving friend, a good parent.

Berlin has started a drive against noisy auto horns.

“I’ve a good mind to report you to the Lord Chancellor for your conduct and have you struck off the rolls.”

Lady Lydia appealed to her masculine allies. The situation seemed to her to be beyond the scope of a “rill woman.”

“Is there no way of removing this appalling young man?” she moaned.

“No, there ain’t,” said Syd. “Not till I’ve done what I come to do.”

He turned to the door, as Wellington did.

Japan-Manchukuo Protocol Simple And Interesting

English Translation of Historic Document Shows Both Countries Agree to Co-operate in Maintaining National Security

Signing of the protocol between Japan and the new state of Manchukuo, which meant Japanese recognition of the new Government, was celebrated in both Tokyo and Changchun with considerable shouting and show, according to Japanese press advices arriving here during the week.

The protocol itself is interesting. A promise by Manchukuo to respect the rights of Japan and Japanese nationals in Manchukuo and an agreement to co-operate in maintaining the national security of the two countries are the main points in the protocol signed on Thursday, September 15, at Changchun, capital of Manchukuo, signifying formal recognition of the new state by the Tokyo Government.

HOW IT READS

The official English translation of the protocol, furnished by the Foreign Office, follows:

"Whereas Japan has recognized the fact that Manchuria, in accordance with the free will of its inhabitants, has organized and established itself as an independent state; and

"Whereas Manchukuo has declared its intention of abiding by all international engagements entered into by China in so far as they are applicable to Manchukuo;

"Now the Governments of Japan and Manchukuo have, for the purpose of establishing a perpetual relationship of good neighborhood between Japan and Manchukuo, each respecting the territorial rights of the other, and also in order to secure the peace of the Far East, agreed as follows:

PRIVATE AND PUBLIC

"1. Manchukuo shall confirm, and respect, in so far as no agreement to the contrary shall be made between Japan and Manchukuo in the future, all rights and interests possessed by Japan or her subjects within the territory of Manchukuo by virtue of Sino-Japanese treaties, agreements or other arrangements, or of Sino-Japanese contracts, private as well as public.

"2. Japan and Manchukuo, recognizing that any threat to the territory or the peace and order of either of the high contracting parties constitutes at the same time a threat to the safety and existence of the other, agree to co-operate in the maintenance of their national security, it being understood that such Japanese forces as may be necessary for this purpose shall be stationed in Manchukuo.

"The present protocol shall come into effect upon the date of its signature.

PRECLUDES ARGUMENT

"The present protocol has been drawn up in Japanese and Chinese, two identical copies being made in each language. Should any difference arise in regard to interpretation between the Japanese and the Chinese texts, the Japanese text shall prevail.

"In witness whereof the undersigned, duly authorized by their respective Governments, have signed the present protocol, and have affixed their seals thereto.

"Done at Hankin, this fifteenth day of the ninth month of the seventh year of Showa, corresponding to the fifteenth day of the ninth month of the first year of Ta-tung.

(L.S.) ROBUYOSHI MATSU, Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary to His Majesty the Emperor of Japan.

"2. Japan and Manchukuo, recognizing that any threat to the territory or the peace and order of either of the high contracting parties constitutes at the same time a threat to the safety and existence of the other, agree to co-operate in the maintenance of their national security, it being understood that such Japanese forces as may be necessary for this purpose shall be stationed in Manchukuo.

BOUND SOUTH EARLY TODAY

Admiral Watson to Sail—Emma in Tonight—Lumber Cargoes Moving

Sailing south for California ports, the Pacific Steamship Lines S.S. Admiral Watson is due to clear from Rialto Pier at 9 o'clock this morning on the way to San Francisco, her first port of call after leaving Victoria. The Admiral Watson will dock at 7 o'clock from Seattle to embark passengers for the voyage.

From California ports, the Pacific Steamship Lines S.S. Emma Alexander is due to dock at Rialto Pier about 10 o'clock tonight with passengers and freight for the port. The liner will be here two hours, proceeding to Seattle at midnight.

From the United Kingdom via Panama and California ports, the Royal Mail Lines motor vessel Lochgoil is due at Ogden Point Piers tomorrow morning.

To load lumber for Australia, the freighter Golden Coast is due at Ogden Point Piers from Chemalup on Saturday. Also on Saturday, the freighter Janeta, now loading on the Mainland, will lift lumber cargo at Ogden Point for the United Kingdom.

Following the Saturday arrivals, the freighter Beneluch is due here Tuesday of next week to take on lumber cargo for the United Kingdom. She is now taking general cargo aboard on the Fraser River.

King Brothers, who operate the above ships, also report the freighter Harpoon coming with a cargo of nitrate for James Island. She is due next week.

JAPANESE FLOATING CANNERIES RETURN

The year's fishing season in Kamchatka came to an end in mid-September, and the floating canneries were all back in Japan last week.

The year's production of canned crab by Japanese interests on the Kamchatkan coast totaled only 180,000 boxes, due to production curtailment of 120,000 boxes from last year. Canned salmon amounted to 1,160,000 cases, as against 1,322,000 cases estimated at the beginning of the season.

These gains are being made at the expense of Oregon and Washington exporters, it is revealed, for British Columbia is this year supplying 60 per cent of the lumber shipped from the Pacific Northwest, representing an advance of about 35 per cent over 1931, when it supplied only one-quarter.

To reduce the cost of fighting the rabbit pest in the Pirogna district of New Zealand, farmers are asked by the Pirogna Rabbit Board to war on the bunnies during the next three months.

Grace Line Ship Had Successful Trials on Naval Course

More than fulfilling expectations, the new $5,000,000 Grace liner Santa Rosa, one of the four sister ships built for the Victoria-Seattle-East Coast service, logged better than twenty knots on her trial trip, according to word received here.

The big express liner, with a full naval trial record, consisting of Rear Admiral G. C. Day and H. G. Gill, was driven at full speed in a figure eight to test out her steering gear, which functioned perfectly. A feature of the liner's performance was the total absence of vibration, even at full speed.

The Santa Rosa will sail from New York on November 24 for Victoria and Seattle via Cuba, Panama, Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Mexico and California, arriving here December 18.

Anchor trials and exhaustive tests of watertight compartments and fuel equipment were then made, followed by a second speed test, which was as successful as the first. Later the Santa Rosa was driven at full speed in a figure eight to test out her steering gear, which functioned perfectly. A feature of the liner's performance was the total absence of vibration, even at full speed.

A feature of the liner's performance was the total absence of vibration, even at full speed.

The Santa Rosa will sail from New York on November 24 for Victoria and Seattle via Cuba, Panama, Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Mexico and California, arriving here December 18.

Anchor trials and exhaustive tests of watertight compartments and fuel equipment were then made, followed by a second speed test, which was as successful as the first. Later the Santa Rosa was driven at full speed in a figure eight to test out her steering gear, which functioned perfectly. BULK OF OIL WATERBORNE

Several Ports Share in Business Acquiring From Pile-chard Industry

VANCOUVER, Oct. 19 (CP).—A new trend in the pile-chard movement has been noted in the season which has just closed. Records show that 75 per cent of the pile-chard oil produced in British Columbia has gone to Continental markets by freighter rather than by the overland railway route as in the past.

Another development of the trade is the fact that nearly 80 per cent of the 1,200,000 gallons exported had to go forward through Seattle, Tacoma and Victoria tanks because Vancouver has not sufficient storage.

There is a battery of tanks at the Harbor Board Lighthouse Pier, with a capacity of 200,000 gallons. From these tanks there has moved 595,000 gallons, distributed by 185,000 gallons to St. Benvenise in August, 198,000 gallons to St. Benvenise, and 205,000 gallons to St. Benvenise in September.

These three ships then passed on to Victoria, Tacoma or Seattle for the balance of the total export of 1,200,000 gallons from British Columbia pile-chard reduction plants.

SEATTLE, Oct. 19 (AP).—The steamship Netherby, first extra carrier of the Royal Mail Lines this season, sailed today with 1,000 tons of wheat from Vancouver, fruit from Seattle and general for South-ern ports to complete for Europe.

After loading further at Portland and California ports, the vessel will sail with a capacity cargo for England and the Continent. Bringing consignments from the Canal Zone, the motorship Lochgoil, regular carrier in the mail line service, will leave for Victoria this morning, arriving October 27.

Chemainus Shipping CHEMAINUS, Oct. 18.—Ships arriving at the port of Chemainus for the week ending October 17 included Canadian Winner, Capt. N. P. Hocking, lumber cargo for St. Lawrence River ports; La Reine, Capt. S. Carlson, Port Townsend; City of Vancouver, Capt. M. Buchanan, lumber cargo for Shanghai; Canadian Spinner, Capt. W. Wright, lumber cargo for Atlantic coast ports; King James, Capt. P. Ellis, lumber cargo for United Kingdom.

Coasting craft clearing port included Cape Scott, Capt. H. S. McLennan, for Vancouver; Island Comet, Capt. D. Millar, for Cowichan Bay; C.N. Tug No. 1, Capt. J. Palmer, for Port Mann; Burrard Chief, Capt. G. M. Newell, for Sidney; Straith, Capt. D. B. McPherson, for Nanaimo; Almar, Capt. A. Warren, for Victoria, and General T. Co., Capt. S. House, for Vancouver.

Shipping on Fraser NEW WESTMINSTER, Oct. 19 (CP).—With H.M.C.S. Skeena and H.M.C.S. Vancouver, adding a naval touch, New Westminster's waterfront is presenting a busy appearance, there being six other vessels in port. The N.Y.K. freight and passenger liner, Hikawa Maru, sister ship of the Ms. Hikawa Maru, which inaugurated the service here, arrived in the Fraser River this morning. She will load 1,000 tons of bar metal before sailing for Japan on Thursday.

The Ms. Golden Coast sailed this afternoon with 1,200,000 feet of lumber, and also the Ms. Beneluch, which loaded 1,000 tons of wheat at the elevator and 1,000,000 feet of lumber from Fraser Mills. She will load 1,000 tons of bar metal before sailing for Japan on Thursday.

New York Stocks List Assortment Of Higher Prices

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (AP).—After some hesitation, stocks became bolder today, and closed with an assortment of 1 to 4 points net gains.

An earlier advance, led by rails, had been largely followed, when wheat took a sudden spurt at Chicago. Its last-minute rally of a cent a bushel net was reflected quickly on the Stock Exchange, where quotations renewed their rise in more active trading. Turnover in the last fifty minutes was about 600,000 shares, which nearly equaled volume for the first four hours.

New York Central and Pennsylvania systems, in the East, reported continued improvement in freight shipments, while several roads in other sections also returned favorable statistics.

On the theory that it is showing reflected business expansion throughout the country, traders bought rail shares for gains of 1 to 4 points, the best advances being made by Union Pacific, Delaware & Hudson, New Haven preferred and Lackawanna. American Telephone, Consolidated Gas, Western Union, Coca Cola, Allied Chemical, Case, American Can, McKeesport and Public Service of New Jersey were up 2 to 4.

BONDS LISTLESS

The bond market labored listlessly today and was able to bring forth only moderate gains, principally in some of the semi-speculative loan groups.

It was the dulllest full day's session since April, sales totaling only $5,865,000 par value.

United States Government issues, buoyant yesterday, and most other issues closed at a trifle lower. High grade obligations were extremely dull and steady. Some carrier bonds gained a point or more. They included some issues of Baltimore & Ohio, Central Pacific, Chesapeake Corporation, Chicago & Northwestern and Southern Pacific.

International Telephone, Postal Telegraph, American Foreign Power and Western Union were up about a point each.

There was a comparatively heavy turnover of Armour & Co. maturities, which recorded gains of more than a point.

Declines were in the majority in the foreign list.

Premier and Reno Stocks in Dull Session

With the exception of Premier and Reno stocks, which accounted for 12,000 of the 18,000 shares traded during the day, interest lagged and trading was dull on the Vancouver Stock Exchange today. Only two price changes were registered.

Reno opened higher at 60, at which figure it sold during the day. It sold higher at 61 1/2 at the close for a net gain of 1 1/2.

Shares of the issue crossed the board. Premier, with 3,950 shares, sold at 100 1/2 at the close, at which figure it closed unchanged. The only other price change was Pioneer, which lost its ten-point gain of the previous session, closing at 42 1/2.

Doctors Say GUINNESS Relieves Insomnia

Many doctors say that a Guinness at bedtime relieves the sleeplessness brought on by overwork or worry. This wholesome stout is rich in nerve building and nourishing food elements that work while the body rests and prepare it for the morrow's needs.

Doctors say of Guinness:
"After a severe illness last year I suffered from insomnia, but found that sound sleep invariably followed when a glass of Guinness was taken before retiring."
M.B.

"I personally find Guinness especially beneficial for sleeplessness due to excessive work and anxiety."
M.B.

These letters, printed by special permission, are two of thousands recently received from the Medical Profession emphasizing the value of Guinness.

H. W. Archibald Has Great Sport At Cowichan Bay

FISH are running well in the Cowichan Bay now, according to H. W. Archibald, who, accompanied by Harold Patterson, got a creelful last Monday. The pair caught seven cohoes, averaging ten pounds; and the largest weighing over seventeen pounds. Archibald captured this latter fish on a six-ounce rod with a small fly and played it for over three-quarters of an hour before landing.

announced yesterday following a meeting of the league. This date will definitely be decided upon at a meeting to be held at the Elks' Club on Tuesday, when final arrangements will be completed and a schedule drawn up.

Mayor Leeming has accepted the honorary presidency of the league and it is the intention to ask him to be the first to wield a cue when the league officially opens. By-laws and rules, which had been drawn up by a committee consisting of Charlie Irish, Sam Oakes and Dave Croston, were passed. Percy Payne was elected vice-president at the meeting and the full list of officers follows: Honorary president, Mayor Leeming; president, W. Crowther; vice-president, P. C. Payne; secretary, Dave Croston.

W. Crowther presided at the meeting, which was well attended. The Garrison Sergeants' Mess signified its intention of entering teams and was represented.

Closing of entries for this season has been postponed till the next meeting, on Tuesday, and any clubs or other organizations wishing to enter are requested to send in their names to Dave Croston at the Elks' Club before that date.

Report Denounces Mission Subsidy

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (AP).—The appraisal commission sent to the Far East by seven Protestant denominations, which donate $15,000,000 annually to mission work, reported today that its survey showed subsidy of mission churches by home churches had introduced "an element of commercialism into the very inner courts of the church."

Today's report was one of a series being issued by the commission on its findings concerning mission conditions in China, Japan, India and Burma.

Red hair of various shades, from deep gold to real Titian, is replacing the platinum blonde in England.

Prince Ranjitsingh, formerly the Sussex and all-England cricketer, and who, by the way, is now the Jam of Nawanagar and one of India's richest potentates, was sixty years old last month. He is the uncle of Dulles, the Sussex cricketer, who played the tour to Australia because of illness.

Gordon Hodgson, the famous South African, who in the famous plays county cricket for Lancashire and in the winter plays first-class football for Liverpool, has kicked seven missed goals for his team and missed none. Hodgson first came to England with the South African tourists some years ago and stayed, along with Riley, the goalkeeper, also with Liverpool.

Hulme, the Arsenal outside right and famous Middlesex cricketer, has accepted a wage that he cannot hit a golf ball from one goal over the far goal with a nibble, a distance of nearly 130 yards. Hulme also says that after a day fielding on the boundary at cricket he feels more fagged out than after the hardest football match.

Darwen, the Lancashire Combination club which drew Arsenal as opponents in the first round of the cup competition last season, got a 10-0-1 kicking and came away with a fat cheque as its share of the gate receipts, for there were 30,000 onlookers. Darwen built a new shelter recently on their ground and called it "The Arsenal Memorial."

Bolton Wanderers have supplied international wingers to all the four countries in the British Isles at some time or another during the last twenty-five years. This season to be a rather tall order, but perusal of the records reveals this soccer oddity, as the first of the mighty wingers was smiling Marshall McEwan, who played for the Wanderers in the early part of the twentieth century. McEwan was an Irishman and he represented Ireland in several international fixtures.

Then came Alec Donaldson, outside right. This chap learned all his football in England and grew up south of the border, but he was born in Scotland and the canny Scots rushed him into the international eleven just prior to the war. About this time also Bolton had an outside left who was of international calibre. This was our old friend Teddy Vizard, a Welshman. He played for Wales for nearly two decades, excluding the war years. A few years ago the Wanderers supplied England with an outside right in Billy Butler.

George Gibson Signs to Pilot Pirates Again
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19 (AP).—George Gibson, manager of the Pittsburgh Baseball Club, tonight signed a contract to continue in his job for 1933. His salary was not made public, but baseball circles believe he received an increase largely in reward for leading the Pirates into second place at the finish of the National League's pennant race.

Aston Villa's international back, Daniel Blair, has evinced some wanderlust since missing his "cap" for the Scottish schoolboys against England while attending the Whitehill Higher Grade School, Glasgow. Blair's father, after once deciding that the boy should take up surgery as a profession, returned to his native Ireland, to take up farming just outside Antrim. Young Blair played a little in Irish junior league football before migrating to Canada. There he threw in his lot with Toronto Scottish, and after a season became associated with Willys-Overland Motor Works F.C. Later he was invited to help the Providence, Rhode Island, club, but soon returned from America to Canada. In the meantime his parents had gone to Glasgow, and being homesick, Blair decided to re-cross the Atlantic. Back in Scotland, he threw in his lot with Parkhead juniors for six months before being transferred to Clyde and helped that club for five seasons. Last November he was transferred to Aston Villa.

Liverpool made a real bargain when they acquired "Billy" Steele, their right back, from St. Johnstone. He belongs to the Fifehire district of Scotland, and was first brought to the attention of English clubs by his consistency and cleverness in the Scottish league. He was invited to Anfield on a month's trial, but before he had fulfilled the probationary period the officials were satisfied by his capabilities, and he was engaged. After a few games of introduction to English football by way of the Central League, Steele at once jumped at the opportunity offered him when he found a place in the team, and since then he has refused to be disturbed.

BOARD WILL MAKE CLAIM FOR DAMAGE

The Saanich School Board will make an insurance claim for $80 damages to the old Elk Lake school, which resulted from a fire outbreak last week. It was further decided to make an effort to sell the property and the school building.

The following music teachers were authorized to give class method piano lessons in their respective schools: Miss Riley, Gordon Head and Cedar Hill; Miss Boydell, Cloverdale and Lakehill; Mrs. Sangster, Tillamook and Strawberry Hill; and Mr. Phillips, McKenzie and Royal Oak.

Holding the youthful Empress Hotel eleven to a scoreless draw yesterday afternoon, at the Heywood Avenue Park, Saanich United XI went into undisturbed first berth in the Heywood Cup series in the Wednesday Football League.

While the sailors and hotelmen were battling to no decision, Manager Teddy Hawkes and his Saanich United footballers were scoring a 3-1 victory over Hudson's Bay at the Royal Athletic Park in the second match of the trophy schedule. A fair crowd witnessed the battle at Heywood Avenue, while only a handful attended the battle at the enclosure.

With both teams taking the field in a comparatively slow pace with neither having any noticeable advantage. Fifteen minutes after the start, with both clubs at full strength, Chapman having come on for Saanich, and Small for the Bays, the sub-urbanites began to add pressure and had much the better of the exchanges. Kelman nearly scored with a fine header from Chapman, the ball just grazing the bar. Minutes later, Chapman scored through but shot wide with a low, fast drive from inside the penalty area.

KELMAN OPENS SCORE

Hudson's Bay staged a strong offensive, and Don Fish cut in fast after taking Nicholas' pass, but Rowe made a beautiful save by tipping the ball over the bar. After twenty-five minutes, Alex Kelman swerved in past the Bays' back defence and took the ball from Shrimphorn to score the opening goal of the game. After the game, Kelman tapped the leather into an empty net. Not long after, Kelman had a fine chance to equalize when they received a pass when Purdy was sandwiched by Saanich players in the goal area. Rowe saved his team with a beautiful save of Purdy's spot kick. The score was the same at the interval.

Attacking from the start of the second half, Saanich soon made it close when Tommy Patten tallied from close range with a fast drive. James Island Salmon Pack of Season Announced

SEATTLE, Oct. 19 (AP).—Salmon pack figures during the recent season for British Columbia, Japan and Siberia were made public today.

The British Columbia canned pack figures for the season, compared with 1931, showed an increase of approximately one-third. From Tokyo came word that the Japanese pack was 1,404,200 cases, and the Siberian pack 300,000 cases, a total of 1,704,200 cases, compared with 1,593,000 last year.

Found New Location For Naval Station

George I. Warren, commissioner of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, has again been called upon to teach geography to some of the publishers of periodicals elsewhere in the Dominion. This time it is with respect to the location of Esquimalt, which The Sweep News, of the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada, says is on the borders of Labrador.

A few thousand miles are involved in the altered location, which is rather aggravating for a place that has been so long properly identified with the naval history of the British Fleet.

TO ALL MERCHANTS MANUFACTURERS AND BANKERS

This is the way to BETTER BUSINESS

"Before there is any great upturn in volume of sales for manufacturers of trade-marked merchandise, there must inevitably be a great upturn in advertising volume.

"Because, merchandising embraces every marketing process involved in getting a commodity from the factory to the consumer. Not merely from the factory to the salesman. Not from the salesman to the wholesaler. Nor from the wholesaler to the retailer. But all the way from the factory to the consumer. Including all the in-between stopping-places.

"Merchandising is complete trade. Goods fully sold. Commodities taken to their cash-yielding terminal. When this last step rounds out the procedure... when the ultimate user's cash flows back through the channels of trade... and the way is opened for repeat sales... then we have Business."★

HERE WE HAVE THE ECONOMIC BASIS OF ADVERTISING

For if we agree that merchandising requires this completion of selling, so that goods go into use and are used up, then we establish the place of advertising as a business essential. Advertising holds its position because it simplifies dealing with the public—as to effort, time and cost. It is an intrinsic part of selling at that last step which actually moves the goods into consumers' hands.

Advertising in the Daily Newspapers—if it is geared by intelligent and trained men to do its necessary share in the job of selling—is an unchanging dominant power—the most rapid, direct, simple and economic contact with Canadian consumers.

'REMEMBER' IS POPPY MESSAGE

Remembrance Day Committee Make Special Plea for Citizens to Do Their Bit

To make Remembrance Day all that the name implies and provide an opportunity for rich and poor to do their "bit" to make remembrance practical and of the greatest benefit to those who returned when the battle was done, poppies, the flower of remembrance, are brought to the citizens each year by disabled veterans in the Red Cross Workshop.

"These replicas of the Flanders poppy are reminders that the battlefields not only retained their dead, but sapped the health and strength of many who showed no visible sign of injury when the army was demobilized," a member of the committee said. "As symbols of remembrance they proved an opportunity for all and sundry to keep faith with those who are sleeping beneath the poppies in the vast military cemeteries of France and Flanders. The sale of poppies makes it possible for veterans to enjoy independence and mind, freedom in making the flowers, and the profit, after paying the Red Cross Workshop for supplying wreaths and poppies, is used to assist veterans in distressed circumstances."

The sum collected last year was much less than that of previous years and, unfortunately, increased distress, which grows greater each year as age added to war-strain takes its toll of health and strength, made it necessary for the committee to discontinue the supply of smokes and small comforts to veterans in local hospitals, in order to conserve the fund for more pressing cases of need.

"For the first year since Poppy Day was instituted, Victoria has failed to provide its veteran patients with the consoling 'weed.' During the war the soldier in trench and hospital was kept supplied, and he learned to look upon the cigarette as a sign that he was not forgotten by the people at home. The poppy of remembrance has blossomed again, may its message be heard and heeded so that the sick veteran in our hospitals may not be denied his smokes because of lack of funds."

Just Roamin' Around

BA TWO ROVERS

Of the forty-five old-timers and pioneers who formed the original group and who were present on the occasion of the first meeting of the Kettle River and Southern Okanagan Pioneers' Society, but seven remain to confirm the story, so unrelenting are the years.

That initial meeting took place at Tommy Wake's Hotel at Boundary Falls, which was a tiny miners' settlement between Midway and a still later "city" known as Greenwood.

Those who went into the "Boundary Country" later will remember most of the following list, taken from the minutes of the now historic meeting, although most of them have long departed from those happy scenes of the early days; and we know that there are many people, now living in Victoria, who will like to recall some of the real old-timers they met in the best mining camp British Columbia ever knew, bar none!

The figures after each name denote the year the pioneer came to live in the "Boundary Country":

THE OLD BRIGADE

Billy Nelson (93), Bob Dunnigan (92), Alec Curry (92), Jimmie Winters (91), Tom Walsh (94), Charlie Dietz (97), Tom Graham (94), George Leyson (87), Bob Sanderson (94), M. Stanson (91), John East (85), A. K. Stuart (94), Dr. Jakes

(84), Tom Hardy (86), L. McCarren (86), Tommy Wake (90), J. R. Jackson (90), Bob Clark (90), Regie C. Sadler (94), Jerry Reed (94), W. J. Castleman (94), Archie Conners (94), P. W. Murray (94), Rorie McLeod (94), Jim Dale (94), Sam T. Larsen (93), Jimmie Wells (91), Hugh Cameron (86), Randy Stuart (94), Jack Harland (93), Harry Shallenberger (93), Bob Kerr (88), Tom McAulay (87), Louie Boeshart (92), Scott McEae (88), George Guess (94), J. C. Haas (93), W. R. Richards (94), Bob Johnston (93), Frank Coryell (93), Johnnie Myers (88), Johnnie Bell (93).

The "Boundary Country" was in its infancy, and those at that first old-timers' meeting were but a third of the whole population of 1894. Many were unable to attend; but of the whole roster of those who went in before "highwater year," there are not more than a mere handful left. So time changes all things and takes its toll of the pioneers.

I am indeed glad and proud that I was privileged to be one of that grand old company of pioneers and rovers, who were the pathfinders and trail-blazers of the early days in Southern British Columbia west of the Arrow Lakes; and, wherever I may be, I shall ever remember the fine gentlemen and good fellows, the prospectors and miners of the "Boundary Country" of 1894.

BRAVE HEARTS AND BOLD!
O let remembrance be kept green
For those no longer heard nor seen—
The men, who early blazed the way!

(Diamonds in the rough, were they!)

Not great achievements mark their trail,
But this one fact: They could not fail;
They searched the hills for wealth untold.
(Gentlemen all! Their hearts the gold!)

MAYOR LEEMING TO ADDRESS VICTORIA REALTORS FRIDAY

Members of the Victoria Real Estate Board will hold a luncheon meeting in Spencer's dining-room tomorrow at noon. The speaker will be Mayor David Leeming. In his address the Mayor will deal with matters connected with the city affairs. His long association with the Real Estate Board gives him an intimate knowledge of the problems with which the members of that organization have to deal, including the vital subject of taxation.

It is anticipated that His Worship will give information with regard to the financial situation of the city today.

Codfish caught by Norwegian fishermen this year weighed 186,357 tons, an increase of 46,128 tons over the 1931 catch.
